MILITARY TRAINING TO BE COMPULSORY FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Statement on Conscription Expected From Prime Minister Chamberlain in House of Commons Today—Youths of Eighteen to Twenty-One Years First to Be Called

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—Compulsory military service was reported decided upon for Great Britain tonight. The Cabinet held a special two-hour meeting in Prime Minister Chamberlain's office at Westminster, where, it was reported, the whole question of conscription was reviewed. The Prime Minister is expected to make a statement on the question in the House of Commons tomorrow.

It was reported that the Government decided to impose military training for youths from eighteen to twenty-one years in the regular army, after which they would become members of the territorial army, which corresponds to the Canadian militia.

EXPECTED PLANS

The Government's plan is expected to take the form of continuous training, perhaps for six months, then compulsory membership in the territorial army for two or three years.

The men will be called up in classes and the estimated number of affected youths of eighteen to twenty-one would exceed 1,000,000.

Although a bill may be introduced in the House of Commons reasonably soon, the Government may decide not to rush it into law in the hope that opposition to it throughout the country may die.

The Prime Minister in his state-

NO IMPRESSION SAYS GERMANY

British Conscription Not Surprise—All Must Listen To Hitler's Speech

BERLIN, April 25 (AP).—The German press tonight declared Britain's reported decision to initiate military conscription would make "no impression" on Chancellor Hitler's reply Friday to President Roosevelt's peace proposals.

The Nazi Government ignored predictions of British military conscription as Chancellor Hitler ordered all Germany to listen on Friday when he broadcasts his reply to President Roosevelt's peace message.

British Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson, who suddenly returned to Berlin yesterday in what was interpreted as a move to soften Hitler's words, failed to get an interview today with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

Von Ribbentrop was not in. A spokesman said the Foreign Minister was very busy these days, getting information for Hitler's address and preparing for forthcoming Yugoslav and Hungarian negotiations.

Factory workers, school children, store clerks and others were instructed to listen to the radio from noon until 1:30 p.m. Friday (3 a.m. to 4.30 a.m., P.S.T.), when the Fuehrer talks.

Concert Ends Day's Events At Festival

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP).—Culminating the day's events, the seventeenth annual British Columbia Musical Festival held a grand concert here tonight, with Dr. Frederic Staton, Arthur Benjamin and George Dodds, noted British adjudicators, officiating.

All competitions held were contested by local competitors.

Entries have been received from outside competitors, who will come to town during the week from Seattle, Victoria, Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Courtenay, V.I.; Vernon, Chilliwack, Nelson, Trail, Northfield and other Interior points.

MUSSOLINI RESTING

ROME, April 25 (AP).—Premier Mussolini flew today to his Summer villa at Rocca Della Caminate for a short rest. Diplomats expressed belief that this indicated a quiet period immediately ahead in Italian developments.

COMMISSION MEETS HERE

Provincial Government Will Defer Recommendations On Alaska Road Route

British Columbia will extend full courtesies to members of the Canadian section of the British Columbia-Yukon-Alaska road commission, to gather here on Thursday for a preliminary meeting, Premier Pattullo declared yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. The Provincial Government will seek every opportunity to discuss phases of the project with the group, but will make no definite recommendation with respect to the route to be followed, the Premier said.

The Province had compiled considerable data on the location of a route, both on the inside and outside passages of the intervening country, but felt that the choice of a route could only be determined after engineers had gone over the ground and weighed every factor in relation to conditions to be met, cost and time of construction, the Premier intimated.

TO WELCOME GROUP

On the other hand, the Provincial Government has made no secret of its desire for action on the issue, and will back this up in personal representations, if the opportunity affords. Largely responsible for the creation of a joint commission to examine the project, Premier Pattullo will welcome the Canadian section of the commission here.

EVEN NETS EATEN BY GRASSHOPPERS

Plague of Insects Descends on California Town—Residents Battle Invaders

COALINGA, Cal., April 25 (AP).—The vanguard of a grasshopper horde invaded the oil town of Avenal, in the Kings County foothills, today, climbing on to porches and devouring every green thing in their path.

Many residents draped mosquito netting over shrubs and flower gardens. The hoppers ate the netting as an pertif.

Home owners fought the invaders with whatever spray guns for house and garden pests they happened to have about. The Avenal Fire Department and Kings County Agricultural Commission workers burned the dry grass at the edge of town and ringed the city limits with poison mash.

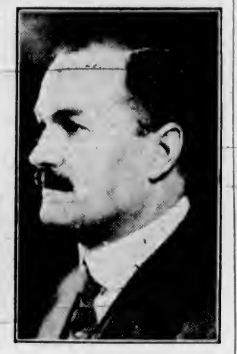

SOLDIERS ATTACKED

PRAGUE, April 25 (AP).—Official news agency dispatches from Pilsen today reported thirty attacks on German soldiers in which acid was thrown on them by unidentified persons.

Armament Bills Cause of Higher Taxes in Britain

Record Peacetime Total for Defence Purposes Provided for in Budget by Chancellor of Exchequer, Sir John Simon—Big Increase in Motor and Income Taxes

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has boosted the nation's taxes by £24,000,000 ($112,320,000) to pay colossal armament bills. To meet the record peace-time total of £630,000,000 for all defence purposes for the 1939-1940 fiscal year, which began April 1, the Chancellor, in his budget speech, announced higher taxes on automobiles, surtax and death duties, but left the basic income tax rate at five shillings and sixpence in a pound.

(The basic income is applied on incomes above £125 for single men and £180 for married couples. The surtax applies to incomes above £2,000.)

MAY NEED MORE

Sir John Simon's entire budget called for an expenditure of £1,320,000,000 ($6,177,600,000) of which about half is for the armed forces and civilian defence. Even more may be needed, the Chancellor said.

"Heavy as the burden is, the country is willing to pay for world peace," he said. "The expenditure to meet defence needs is approved by the general sense of the country and of Parliament."

About half the defence expenditures are to be met by borrowing, but £24,000,000 is to come from increased taxes.

Another 5 per cent was added to the surtax on incomes of between £2,000 and £8,000 and a further 10 per cent on incomes of more than £8,000. (For example, the rate on

APPROPRIATION PASSED ALONG

United States Congress Signals Start of Air Corps Expansion

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP). — Congress signaled the start of the big expansion of the United States Army air corps today when it finally passed along to President Roosevelt a $308,789,824 appropriation for the War Department.

Of this money, $50,000,000 will be available immediately for beginning the programme to raise the air force strength to 6,000 planes. The remainder is to be spent in the next fiscal year for various purposes, such as bolstering Panama Canal and sea coast defences, improving military posts, and buying such materials as tanks and anti-aircraft artillery.

Meantime, President Roosevelt signed a bill authorizing $66,800,000 for ten new naval bases and the expansion of existing bases. It was estimated that the new projects would be built in three years.

They include an $8,741,000 base on Kodiak Island, near the Aleutians.

GUARDS WATCH CROSBY HOME

Kidnappers Threaten Child Of Famous Singer of Film and Radio

LOS ANGELES, April 25 (AP).—The Toluca Lake home of Bing Crosby, film and radio singing star, was under guard tonight, his studio disclosed, because of a kidnap threat against one of his four children.

Crosby refused to discuss the matter and said he has been pledged to secrecy by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Federal agents, the studio source said, talked with him on a motion picture set there late last week.

Everett Crosby, brother and business manager of the singer, said a threatening letter was received in Bing's fan mail at the studio about a week ago "and was disposed of in a routine manner."

The studio denied a report that any such sum as $100,000 was demanded in the note.

GUARDS ON DUTY

Guards, consisting largely of studio police, have been on duty at the Crosby home for four days, it was stated.

Studio sources said reports of the plot were received by San Francisco police when [illegible] the men involved had talked of their plans while under the influence of liquor, and the information was turned over to F.B.I. men here.

The plotters allegedly talked of a Hollywood "snatch racket" and mentioned one of Crosby's children as being first on their list.

Crosby and his wife, Dixie Lee Crosby, live at their country estate with their four sons, Philip Lang and Dennis Michael, five-year-old twins, Gary Evan, six, and Harry L., Jr., eighteen months of age.

REQUEST REJECTED

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP).—The civic finance committee today turned down a request of the Vancouver May Day committee to grant a public holiday in the city May 1 to allow workers to join in the annual May Day parade.

Suggest Supervised Co-operation as Key To Railway Problem

Senate Committee Told Agreement to Disagree Prevents Saving of Tens of Millions—Question Of Union Terminal Raises Storm

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Supervised co-operation between the two railways and regulation of highway competition were advanced to the Senate railway committee today as a two-fold solution to Canada's railway problem.

Harvey H. Black, veteran financial writer from Montreal, made the suggestion as an individual keenly interested in the railway situation.

NO SINCERE DESIRE

Present legislative machinery for voluntary co-operation between the railways had been impeded by failure of railway representatives to show a sincere desire to co-operate. Rather they "agreed to disagree," and the result had been savings of less than $2,000,000 a year when they should have been "tens of millions."

Mr. Black also pointed out that not once had the help of the arbitrary tribunal been invoked to settle a dispute over co-operation. He suggested reference to the tribunal should be compulsory and that the arbitrary tribunal be enlarged both in numbers and scope.

Canadian Trappers Reach World Fair, Ending Long Mush

CHANGES IN TARIFF FEW

Recommendations of Board Followed for Most Part by Finance Minister

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Apart from the complete removal of the three-per-cent excise tax on all imports from countries which enjoy the intermediate and most-favored nation tariffs, only seventy-seven items of the customs schedule were affected by the budget changes announced today. The large majority of the changes were downward.

It was estimated the three-per-cent excise tax now applies to only 1½ per cent of the imports into Canada, that being the proportion now entering from the twenty-five or twenty-six countries with which Canada does not have trade agreements. All tariff changes are effective at midnight tonight.

In general, the Tariff Board's recommendations on the various applications and references it examined have been followed by the Finance Minister. Chief among these is the matter of radios.

MUST PASS ON SAVING

Formerly dutiable under a wide range of tariff items, parts of radio tubes will now enter Canada free of impost. The board recommended, however, unless the reduction was passed on to the consumer, the tariff concession should be rescinded. The board found manufacturers were amply protected and have taken full advantage of their protection, by patent rights, under the Patent Act.

On this point Hon. Charles Dunning said the Government would have to study the relationship between tariffs and the Patent Act "respecting the abuse of exclusive rights under patents."

SIX HELD FOR POISON DEATHS

Widespread Slaying for Insurance Ring Uncovered At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, April 26 (AP).—Assistant District Attorney Vincent P. McDevitt announced early today the arrest of a sixth person in a widespread poison for insurance ring.

McDevitt said Mrs. Josephine Romaldo, forty-one, admitted she killed her husband twenty years ago and collected $7,000 of his insurance.

The arrest came a few hours after the district attorney had announced "startling developments" in an investigation of the ring which operated in four states. Four slayings previously had been attributed to the syndicate.

District Attorney Charles F. Kelley announced three or four more arrests would be made within the next few days.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS

"Since yesterday there have been a number of startling developments," he said. "Just how many deaths are involved we do not know for sure, but the number has been augmented considerably."

Kelley's remarks prompted the belief Mrs. Carina Favato, confessed slayer of three poison victims, had told some of the ring's deepest secrets in an effort to escape electrocution. Promised a life sentence if she "told all," she had been closeted with police questioners most of two days.

Mrs. Favato, an Italian boarding housekeeper, pleaded guilty on Friday to poisoning her stepson, her husband and another man to collect about $28,000 insurance money.

Twelve Men Hurt by Bolt Of Lightning

HALFMOON BAY, B.C., April 25 (CP).—Twelve men suffered shock and slight burns here yesterday afternoon, when a bolt of lightning struck a logging rigging near which they were working.

The storm, most severe in the history of this coast district thirty-five miles northwest of Vancouver, lasted about twenty minutes.

Timekeeper E. Pearson, of Osborne Logging Company, said the men were handling rigging or working on trucks or in machine shops when the storm struck.

MINOR CHANGES IN TAXATION AND TARIFF RATES MADE IN BUDGET

Highlights of Budget Speech at Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Highlights of the Budget speech delivered today:

Deficit of $60,000,000 estimated for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1940, without providing for further wheat marketing losses.

Income tax deductions for firms proceeding with construction plant extension within the next year equal to 10 per cent of amount of capital expended.

Further three-year extension of income tax exemptions for new metallic mine developments coming into production.

Removal of 3 per cent excise tax on all imports other than those entering Canada under general tariff.

Duties on parts used in manufacture of radio tubes removed on recommendation of the tariff board.

Hon. Charles Dunning says no reason for any fear "as to our national solvency," but urges business and financial leaders to expand production, employment and incomes to avoid necessity of Government spending.

Changes in seventy-seven tariff items largely confirming concessions in Canada-United States trade agreement already approved.

No changes in sales tax or in schedule of exemptions or no changes in miscellaneous excise taxes.

Hon. C. A. Dunning Forecasts Deficit of $60,000,000 for Present Fiscal Year—Budget Designed To Direct Funds Into Expansion of Productive Industry Through Income Tax Exemption

Urges Canadians to Develop National Esprit de Corps

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—A tempting tax-exemption bait was held out to productive industry by Finance Minister Charles Dunning today in an attempt to call idle dollars out of retirement and revitalize Canadian business. Forecasting a $60,000,000 deficit for the fiscal year 1939-1940, started last April 1, and estimating the deficit for 1938-1939 at $55,666,000, Mr. Dunning described these red figures as regrettable but not alarming if Canadians with idle dollars only would put them to work.

Rather than increase taxes to meet the budgetary situation, he launched measures designed to produce increased revenues from the present taxation by bringing about an increased national income.

Foremost among these is the granting of a credit against income tax to all firms proceeding with construction, plant extension or improvement within the next year, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of capital expended.

The exemption was based on experience with the three-year income tax exemption formerly granted to new metal mines on coming into production. This exemption had worked well in spurring the mining industry to further activity, and would now be extended for another three-year period.

MOST CHANGES ARE MINOR

It was something of a businessman's budget, as it contained few changes of direct concern to the individual consumer or taxpayer. This was largely due to the numerous tariff changes effected since advent of the present administra-

WILL ALLOW TAX CREDITS

Dunning Announces Plan to Stimulate Plant Extension And Improvement

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Changes in the Income Tax Act designed to stimulate a more rapid flow of private investment into productive enterprise were announced by Hon. Charles Dunning, Finance Minister, in his budget speech today.

Tax credits will be offered to stimulate capital improvements and expansion programmes by private industry. Industrial concerns will be allowed to deduct from their income tax an amount not exceeding 10 per cent of the amount they spend during the year on capital improvements, the deduction to be spread over three years.

OFFERS RESOLUTION

The resolution to amend the act follows:

"That a taxpayer (other than a company deriving income from a metalliferous mine) shall be entitled to deduct from the tax that would otherwise be payable under the act amounts not exceeding in the aggregate 10 per cent of capital costs actually incurred and paid in the period beginning May 1, 1939, and ending April 30, 1940, in respect of the construction, installation, betterment, replacement or extension of plant, machinery or fixed equipment during the same period, by deducting in each of the first three fiscal years of the taxpayer after April 30, 1940, in which the taxpayer has taxable income, an amount not

Conservation Essential to Preserve Fur

CALGARY, April 25 (CP).—Unless some form of conservation work is started within the near future in the extreme northern areas of the Dominion, Canada stands to lose one of the richest fur-bearing areas in the world, said T. C. Main, of Winnipeg, in a service club address here.

Mr. Main, general manager of Ducks Unlimited (Canada), said wild life was being depleted rapidly and that forest fires had played havoc. He urged that part of the territory be set aside each year and steps made to replenish the area with wild life.

SAY CONTRACTS ARE NOT FAIR

Federal Tariff Board Brings In Report on Trade in Automobiles

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Contracts between automobile manufacturers and their retail dealers are unfair to the latter and should be modified, the Dominion Tariff Board reported today, following an inquiry into the industry. The report was tabled by the Finance Minister, Hon. Charles Dunning, when he delivered his budget speech.

The board made an extensive survey of the various aspects of the automobile industry, covering employment and wages, relationship between the manufacturers and dealers, new capital expenditures, retail price comparisons between Canada and the United States, and certain market conditions.

The board considered difficulties existing in distribution of automobiles through retail channels and said "the terms of the franchise which the large automobile manufacturers offer to their dealers and under which the dealers are compelled to operate appear to be too one-sided."

TIGHTENING UP PRESS CONTROL

Daladier Starts Battle to Crush Foreign Propaganda in France

PARIS, April 25 (AP). — Premier Daladier announced rigid press control laws today as the beginning of a battle to crush foreign propaganda inside France.

Foreign alliances and sweeping increases in armed forces are not enough, he told his Cabinet colleagues.

France, Daladier said, must be purged of all internal and foreign inspired efforts to divide national opinion either by direct propaganda or by efforts to stir up racial or religious prejudice.

The laws are designed to curb both pamphleteering and press activities of foreign origin. Offenders are liable to from six months to five years in prison, heavy fines and even loss of civil rights.

NOT DEFINED

Foreign propaganda was not defined, but the decree declared "it can not be permitted for foreign agents in all liberty to retain in France itself the means of influencing opinion of campaign appropriate to their ends."

Leftist newspapers have accused Rightist newspapers of being financed by German and Italian sources, and Rightists have charged that the Leftist press was subsidized by Soviet Russia.

Under the new decrees, a recipient of funds from abroad for publicity campaigns of any sort must report the matter to police within eight days.

Eastern Champions Register 30-24 Triumph Over Dominoes and Prolong Canadian Finals—Meretsky Is High Scorer—Fourth Game Tomorrow Evening

CHECKING fiercely throughout the forty minutes of play against a club which showed a great reversal of form from the previous evening when they crushed the opposition under by eighteen clear points, Windsor Alumni, Eastern hoop champions, stayed in the race for the Canadian men's senior basketball championship last night at the Victoria Sports Centre, at the Willows, by defeating the Dominoes, 30-24, in the third game of the play-offs. Close to 2,500 fans watched the battle and were disappointed at the showing of the home club.

The fourth game of the national series will be played on the same court tomorrow evening at 8.30, and a win for the Victorians will decide the title for this season, while a reverse will force the fifth and final tussle on Friday.

WILL NOT BRING IMPERIAL CROWN

Prorogation Before Arrival of Their Majesties at Ottawa Is Not Expected

LONDON, April 25 (CP). — The King will not take the Imperial State Crown to Canada, it was learned today from an official source.

The crown, which His Majesty wears on state occasions, will be left behind when the King and Queen embark on the battle cruiser Repulse at Portsmouth on May 6.

The reason is understood to be that it is hardly likely that Canada's Parliament will be ready for prorogation when Their Majesties are in Canada.

The King, however, will appear in Parliament at Ottawa and give royal assent to bills which have been enacted.

The last occasion on which a sovereign gave personal royal assent to an Act of Parliament was believed to have been at Westminster on August 12, 1854, by Queen Victoria.

Deficit of Canadian National Railways Shows Big Increase

Dominion Government Expenditures for Government-Owned Enterprises Mount Sharply—Harbors and Air Line Contribute to Costs

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—The increased deficit of the Canadian National Railways in the last fiscal year brought about a sharp jump in Dominion Government expenditures for Government-owned enterprises, Finance Minister Dunning reported in his Budget speech today.

The C.N.R. net cash deficit of $54,314,000 was $11,968,000 greater than the deficit of $42,346,000 in the previous year. The total amount charged to Dominion expenditures arising out of operating deficits and non-active advances to all Government-owned enterprises was $58,967,000, an increase of $14,134,000 compared with $44,833,000 the previous year.

The Government also made advances of $59,694,000 to the railway for capital purposes, but $50,000,000 was repaid by a Government-guaranteed C.N.R. bond issue. At the close of the fiscal year the railway owed outstanding temporary loans of $17,077,000. There was a temporary loan of $1,500,000 pending passage of the C.N.R. 1939 budget.

ADVANCES FOR HARBORS

Of the other Government enterprises, $3,441,000 was advanced to the National Harbors Board, which reported an increase of 33 per cent in operating income compared with the previous year.

The money advanced to the Harbors Board was earmarked as follows: $138,000 for operating deficits of Quebec and Churchill harbors and the Prescott, Ont., elevator; $358,000 for non-active advances for the deficit of the Jacques Cartier bridge at Montreal; $2,160,000 for retirement of debentures of Halifax, Quebec and Saint John Harbor Commissions; and $785,000 for capital expenditures at Saint John, Quebec, Three Rivers and Chicoutimi, Que.

SURPLUS ON STEAMSHIPS

Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships, Limited, reported an operations surplus of $276,000 after paying bond interest to the public, compared with $189,000 in 1937. The surplus was paid to the Government in partial payment of interest on advances. The Government advanced the steamship company $6,000 for improvements on vessels.

Operations of Trans-Canada Air Lines for the calendar year 1938 resulted in a deficit of $818,000 after interest on capital but before depreciation, compared with a deficit of $111,000 for the period June 1 to December 31, 1937.

OUTPUT VALUE DIPS SLIGHTLY

Canada's Mineral Production Shows Gain in Volume And Drop in Returns

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Volume of Canada's mineral production in 1938 was higher than the preceding year, but lower prices, especially among base metals, brought about a drop in value of about 2.7 per cent, Finance Minister Dunning declared in his budget speech today.

Production of gold, copper, lead, zinc, platinum, natural gas and crude petroleum all reached new peak figures in 1938, but with the exception of gold and petroleum, value of production in all categories was down substantially from the previous year, the Minister reported.

"Petroleum production in Alberta increased rapidly during the year despite market limitations," he said. "In the Turner Valley field thirty-eight wells were brought into production, substantially extending the proven area of the field. Another recent development of considerable interest is the report of significant evidence of a large and apparently commercial deposit of high-grade iron ore in Ontario west of Fort William."

EMPLOYMENT IS HIGHER

Employment in mining averaged slightly higher than the previous year, "a reflection of the high level of operation maintained throughout the year despite lower prices."

The value of all minerals produced in the calendar year 1938 was $444,800,000, compared with $457,400,000 the previous year. Gold production, however, was sharply higher at $165,900,000, compared with only $143,300,000, and petroleum was valued at $11,800,000 compared with $5,400,000.

LEGISLATION IS STIMULUS TO BUILDING

Finance Minister Says $65,000,000 of New Work Has Been Started

SUGGESTS CREATION OF ANOTHER AGENCY

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Legislation to stimulate building activity has been responsible already for more than $65,000,000 worth of new work, Finance Minister Dunning told the Commons in his budget speech today.

The construction industry "suffered more from the pernicious anaemia of depression" than any other industry, Mr. Dunning said. Speculative building has been of great value in creating Canadian homes, but the housing speculators had suffered in the difficult years and there was not likely to be any immediate revival of speculative building.

Hope of the industry lay in revival of speculative building or creation of another agency, preferably "a group of building or development corporations along the lines of the estates corporations which have put much of the drive behind the British building boom."

LOSSES ARE SMALL

Mr. Dunning briefly reviewed the various Government agencies for stimulating the construction industry. More than 50 per cent of the 65,690 loans, totaling $26,228,621, had been repaid and the losses under the home improvement plan shouldered by the Government had been only $19,037 or 1-13th of 1 per cent of the total value of loans.

Under the National Housing Act there had been 8,014 family housing units financed by loans aggregating $30,628,894. Since the act was amended eight months ago the value of loans had increased 83 per cent compared with the similar period in the previous year, and he estimated a loan volume for 1939 of "several times" that of last year.

LOW-RENTAL HOUSING

The minister declared he would like to see advantage taken of provisions of the same act for low-rental housing projects. So far no loans had been made under this section, but several cities were in course of preparing plans.

Doubt whether the construction industry had taken full advantage of the sales appeal arising from the last year's removal of the 8 per cent sales tax on construction materials was expressed by Mr. Dunning.

In the eight months in which the Municipal Improvements Act has been in operation forty-six loans for a total of $3,582,667 had been made, with five additional applications pending for a total of $442,731.

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Income tax payments furnished the largest single item of government revenues during the last fiscal year, it was revealed in Finance Minister Dunning's speech today.

The total was $142,025,000, the highest ever reported, and an increase of 18 per cent over the previous year. Of this total $85,185,000 was from tax on corporation incomes, $46,937,000 from individual incomes and $9,903,000 from the five per cent tax on interest and dividends.

SUCCESS SECRETS GIVEN TO AGENTS

J. J. Murray, Dominion Life Officer, Addresses Gathering of Island Underwriters

Secrets of success for life underwriters were given by J. J. Murray, superintendent of agencies for the Dominion Life, at a luncheon meeting of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association in Terry's dining-room yesterday.

Sincerity of conviction in their work was the prime requisite for success, the speaker said, and was followed in importance by a man's capacity for friendship. Success came to a salesman who was interested in other people and who had his friends boosting for him, Mr. Murray continued.

In order to assist others financially the underwriter must have the capacity to manage his own affairs, and must discipline himself to put all his capacities to work. Cultivating success habits and maintaining a positive mental attitude towards the job on hand were important factors in reaching the top, added Mr. Murray.

The guest speaker was introduced by H. Winterburn, who presided in the absence of the president and vice-president. Vernon Ridgway moved the vote of thanks on behalf of the members.

An actor had just come off the stage, when the manager said, "What's the matter with your face, old man? It's as red as a tomato."

And the actor said, "Well, dammit, it is tomato!"

SUMMER PROOF YOUR MOTOR

Drain and Re-fill with Mobiloil

● In the long, hot grind of summer driving your motor needs the best oil made. It needs that extreme oiliness of Mobiloil.

Seventy years of constant research in the Mobiloil laboratories have disclosed ways of removing those elements which don't give the very finest lubrication.

The Clearosol Process takes out those elements which ordinarily form sticky sludge. Modern dewaxing removes the last trace of carbon-forming wax. Then the oil is filtered again and again to get rid of unwanted material.

It's not how much oil that can be obtained from the crude that counts — but how good an oil. Mobiloil is practically 100% lubrication. It lasts longer, keeps motors cleaner, livelier, smoother running. For real protection, change to Summer Mobiloil now.

Appeals to House to Pass Bill Designed to Check Loan Sharks

Minister of Revenue Urges Members to Bury Differences and Set Limit of 2 Per Cent Interest Monthly on Small Loans

OTTAWA, April 25 (C). — Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Revenue, appealed to the House of Commons today to bury its differences on minor points as to what ought to be done to combat the "loan shark evil"—over which it had been arguing for several years—and adopt the Government's bill setting 2 per cent a month as the inclusive maximum charge for small loans.

The bill before the House for second reading was substantially that agreed upon by the Commons' banking and commerce committee last year, the minister said, and had been passed by the Senate without amendment.

It was an answer to a growing public demand for an effective curb on "loan sharks" and brought all classes of money-lenders, including those provincially incorporated, under one control. It also dropped all possible charges against a borrower into the open.

CLASSES OF LENDERS

On the same loans bill, Mr. Ilsley said there were three classes of lenders outside the chartered banks: small loan companies incorporated by the Dominion, small loan companies provincially incorporated and individual money lenders. The three Dominion-incorporated companies loaned $9,701,000 in 1938, with balances outstanding of $4,764,000 at the year end. Total interest, fees and other charges received in 1938 were $1,096,000.

The forty-six provincial companies loaned $6,500,000 and had balances outstanding of about $3,000,000 at the year-end.

Greatest abuses in money lending were in transactions involving individual lenders, where interest ran as high as 1,000 per cent a year and 100 per cent or more was common.

The Money Lenders' Act, limiting interest on small loans to 12 per cent, had been ineffective. All kinds of rates and charges were also being levied by the various provincial companies.

WHEN "SHARKS" MOVE IN

Experience showed where rates were set at less than 2 per cent a month the lending companies had gone out of business and the loan sharks moved in.

The proposed charge for loans of up to 2 per cent a month was too high, said W. A. Tucker, Liberal, Rosthern, but he would support the bill because it represented a step towards an effective curb on money lenders charging exhorbitant rates.

Personal he would prefer to see a limit of 1 per cent imposed, but possibly if this bill were on the statute books it might be possible later to obtain reduction in the rate charged.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce had been the only bank to go into the small loans field, charging an average of only 10.5 per cent, and he commended the bank for the service. If he were still in the House when the other banks came up for charter renewals he would tell them they did not deserve a renewal for their failure to do their parts.

DOUBTS AUTHORITY

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Kootenay East, questioned ability of the bill to control the forty-six provincial loan companies, but Mr. Ilsey interjected they would be subject to provisions of the bill.

Most effective way of controlling interest rates on loans, Mr. Stevens said, was by amending the Criminal Code to make it a criminal offence to charge over a certain rate.

He would vote against the bill, the Conservative member said, because it had the effect of saying loan companies had approval of Parliament in charging 26 1-2 per cent a year on a large proportion of their loans.

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. Leader, said there was something wrong when the poor man had to pay 2 per cent a month for money, while the businessman could get his credit for much less.

OLD PRINCIPLE NEEDED TODAY

Local Society Honors St. George—Speakers Uphold God and Country

"The principles involved when knights of old took the oath to defend the true and just and fight the aggressor were never more needed than today, when we must stand shoulder to shoulder for democracy against the unprincipled ethics of dictators," declared Rev. A. E. G. Hendy, presiding at the informal dinner held last night by the Royal Society of St. George in Terry's private dining-room in commemoration of St. George's Day.

Various items made up a lively and interesting programme. K. C. Symons gave a talk on his "nodding acquaintance" with British Royalty from the days of Queen Victoria until the present, and described his impression of the Aldershot Tattoo as emphasizing the inherent feeling that an Englishman stood for two things—his God and his country. Dean Spencer Elliott, introduced as the "baby" of the society, echoed these remarks and stated: "That being so, we ought not to be afraid—it has to do with our scale of values, and the British point of view will stand us in good stead in time of need."

EARLY COLONISTS

Bishop Lloyd related the great difficulties that were encountered by the early colonists and declared that the doors of immigration should now be opened wide to the people of Great Britain, to make up for the great influx of Central Europeans during more recent years.

Songs were contributed by Master E. Leman, Mrs. Edward Parsons and Mr. Hendy, and piano selections by Miss H. Harfield. Miss Harfield and Edward Parsons were the accompanists. The toast to the King, coupled with a reference to the forthcoming Royal visit, was proposed by A. E. G. Cornwell.

Plans for the coming year were announced to include lectures and social nights, and it was indicated that the annual fee had been reduced in the hope of attracting new members. Greetings were read from the parent society in London, England, and from branches in Warrington, Uganda, Cardiff, Brisbane, Spenborough, the Strait Settlements, Winnipeg, and Edmonton.

Officers for the new year are as follows: Honorary patron, Dean Elliott; honorary president, Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P.; president, Rev. A. E. G. Hendy; first vice-president, K. C. Symons; second vice-president, Captain Ord; secretary, Mrs. Bertha Parsons; treasurer, G. W. Deaville; social convener, Mrs. Louise Lovatt; chaplains, Bishop Lloyd and Rev. A. E. Whitehouse.

BRANTFORD, Ont., April 25 (CP).—Any member of Brantford's City Council may come to a council meeting in an intoxicated condition but if he "talks like a fool, he shall be thrown out," according to an old ruling. Mayor R. J. Waterous recalled recently the ruling never has been rescinded.

A MEASURE OF CONSCRIPTION

No move on the European chessboard would more seriously emphasize the gravity of the situation within recent weeks than a determination by Great Britain to introduce a measure of conscription to increase her military man-power. It is taken for granted that Germany will reject the suggestion made by President Roosevelt, of the United States, in favor of a guaranteed minimum of ten years of peace. The attitude of Herr Hitler towards guarantees and treaties is of the contemptuous variety. It would seem, therefore, that political formulas of the past may as well be abandoned where Germany is concerned; that is to say, there is none that could be outlined which would not be susceptible of being broken to gratify Hitlerian ambitions. There is a move towards collective action against aggression. It has to be strengthened and in no way will Great Britain inspire those nations to whom she guarantees mutual assistance better than in showing them that all her resources will be called into being to stand in the path of the aggressor.

The times are too serious for half-hearted measures. It is the force of events that is driving the British Government to a policy that has never hitherto been contemplated save in the dire emergency of the Great War. What is purposed is not what is known as universal conscription. It is to determine the number of men who can be equipped and trained within a given period. It is to provide for the training of the nation's youth in military service—what is done in Germany, France, Italy and Russia. The process will be gradual. The military machine does not exist in Great Britain to absorb all the recruits forthcoming under wholesale conscription. There will be a graduated plan, which will disturb the life of the nation as little as possible, so that the conscription as intended will not be of the Continental variety; it will be more in the nature of compulsory military training which, had it prevailed throughout the Empire before the Great War, would conceivably have saved hundreds of thousands of lives.

Forceful methods are obviously called for to stay the hand of German aggression. What Great Britain contemplates will be understood in Berlin. What is more, the certainty is that any such departure would hearten those who are hesitating, through fear, of joining a pact against aggression. That would be the purpose, as much as anything else, that would lead to an historic decision, and while there would be criticism regarding the ethics of that decision, no one may say that the country would not be right in a determination that no stone should be left unturned to insure self-preservation. Conscription, hateful as the word is, could put the coping stone on Great Britain's rearmament. It would be a formidable contribution to the peace of the world. It would put new heart into the forces of democracy.

Since 1935 five major crisis have developed. They were Ethiopia, the Rhineland, Austria, Sudetenland and Czecho-Slovakia. In the retrospect of history it will be asked if any of them would have happened if Great Britain had not been disarmed to the extent she was. Now she is strong and is determined to be stronger. She can face any emergency as fearlessly as she has done throughout her long history, and in the decision she now proposes she will tell the rest of the Empire what she is prepared to sacrifice for its liberty as well as her own.

ITALY IN ETHIOPIA

Ethiopia is proving a liability rather than an asset to Italy. The conquest and occupation of the country has cost between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000. Mr. G. L. Steer, who has a personal knowledge of conditions in East Africa, says colonization in Ethiopia hardly exists, and there is unlikely to be any until the country is disarmed and pacified. There is rebellion in four districts and the Italians seem to be content to hold their fortified positions, which are the market towns of the plateau and the roads between them.

Mr. Steer, who writes in The Yorkshire Post, says Ethiopia could not be colonized en masse unless the land were seized from the Coptic Church, which is the principal landowner. Before this could be done the country would have to be disarmed, "for the Church is historically the sole unifying force among the Amharas," and "an attack on the Church would stir up a far more bloody revolt than any since the war officially ended." Mr. Steer says that Italy is losing money hand over fist in Ethiopia. This explains her interest in Djibouti and the Suez Canal. She wants to reduce the cost of the transport of goods from Italy to Massawa, via the Sucz, and hence she wants a part in the administration of the canal. Mr. Steer then says:

"He (Premier Mussolini) wants cheaper rates through the Canal, and cheaper rates on the Franco-Ethiopian Railway. He went quite lightheartedly into his quarrel with the Franco-Ethiopian Railway in 1937, because he thought he could blackmail them into reducing their rates and accepting payment in lire. He thought that they would cave in if he withdrew Italian traffic from the line. They preferred to cut down their staff by 30 per cent and reject his demands out of hand. So he has had to carry on the expensive bluff of two-way lorry transport over 700 miles of mountain, between Addis and Massawa."

A NON-MAGNETIC SHIP

The R.R.S. Research, a non-magnetic vessel of 770 tons, has just been launched at Dartmouth, built to the order of the British Admiralty. It is a brigantine-rigged ship with auxiliary engine and will gather data in many seas on magnetic variation. The charts that are prepared will be available to all nations, and in the event of war deep-water echo-sounding machine. Another the Research will carry letter of marque signed by the Powers to protect her from attack. She will be the only ship of her kind in the world. Her work is described as follows:

"It will include investigation of atmospheric electricity, determination of the earth's magnetism at sea, deep-sea sounding, meteorology, and possibly marine biology. For these purposes she will be equipped with a wide range of special instruments which embody the latest results in scientific research. For deep-sea sounding she will be fitted with the latest Admiralty pattern instrument is a deflector for determining magnetic density at sea. It is used to measure the strength of the earth's magnetic field in a horizontal plane. This is done by balancing the earth's horizontal field against another magnetic field for which a magnet of known strength is used. Yet another of the instruments is a marine earth-inductor for determining inclination at sea. This instrument is used to measure the magnetic inclination or dip, and consists essentially of a coil which may be rotated at a constant speed, and will generate an electric current when connected with a galvonometer in the control-house. There will also be a collimating compass for determining magnetic declination or compass variation at sea."

BONUSING POLICIES

The wheat subsidy to Western farmers cost the Dominion Government approximately $44,000,000 in one year, and Premier Bracken and other representatives of the wheat-growing interests want the subsidy continued. As this is the year of an election, it appears likely that the Western demands will be met and the proposed policy of a sixty-cent minimum, plus a bonus on acreage, will be abandoned. The Government has not the courage to refuse the demands made by Premier Bracken, who is now on his second trip to Ottawa during the present session of Parliament to press the claims of his constituents and of the Prairies generally.

The Government, by a continuation of the wheat-bonusing policy, opens itself to the possibility of primary producers throughout the Dominion making demands for guaranteed minimum prices. The Minister of Agriculture seems to have some such plan in view based on the average prices of the last three years. Were this plan adopted it is possible that, with the wheat bonus, it would cost the country well over $100,000,000 a year and Ottawa could bid good-bye indefinitely to any hope of achieving a balanced Budget. The processes of paternalism continue to multiply and the taxpayers are, in consequence, more and more ground down. The Federal Government continues to spend many millions more money than it collects in taxation and the people are paying all, perhaps in some instances, more than they can economically provide. Business is heavily handicapped; scores of millions are thrown away annually because of wholly unnecessary duplication of railway services. The Government, however, proceeds unperturbed on its spend-thrift course.

"As though there were a tic
And obligation to posterity.
We get them, bear them, breed and nurse;
What has posterity done for us
That we, lest they their rights should lose,
Should trust our necks to gripe of noose?"

OVERSEAS SERVICE

Politicians, not strategists, have been declaring that Canada will never again send an expeditionary force overseas. That means she will win her wars at home; in other words, wait for the enemy to reach her shores, and then, if she can, defeat it. It is a doctrine that is peculiarly the part in war that becomes small nations who have only a limited power of defence, and no power of attacking the aggressor and preventing the violation of their own soil. Great Britain, tried in war through the centuries, is not under any delusion which would make her invite the possibility of the last battle being fought on her own terrain. Mr. Hore-Belisha, her Secretary of State for War, says that if war comes she will send nineteen divisions overseas immediately. It is counter offence that is, and always will be, the swiftest means of ending conflict. If the Empire is ever threatened again thousands of the residents of this Dominion will flock to the colors, and for service overseas, if such service is required, as it will be unquestionably in any future war.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

It is a deep pool, the human mind. What bits of experience, lightly tossed in facts, forgotten sights, and half-remembered fancies come to the top when you stir it even idly. Stir the mind with purpose, and it will commence to dredge for you; dredge and select; select and combine; recombine and create something that did not exist before. It is a peculiar process, and it takes time. Few minds work like a slot machine, where you press a lever at one side and get a result immediately out at the other. Moreover you have to put something into the mind before you can get much out. Of course, living from day to day, you cannot help putting things into the mind. Consciously and unconsciously, you are adding to the contents of the pool. But what is the light on the surface of the pool? Is it red and angry; obscure and murky; or bright and clear? That makes a difference. So many things that are unrecognizable in a half-light, show up identifiably in a bright light. Take, for instance, the man with an obsession of persecution. He dredges strange things from his mind; strange, abnormal thoughts that lead to queer, unwonted actions. They, in turn, induce reactions from other people; add to the list of sullen thoughts to throw in the pool; increase the red light of anger on its surface; obscure still further all the pool contains, until life becomes one long escape from persecution. What a way to spend a life!

Most of us sail through life on the sea of our own thoughts, with fair or contrary winds prepared for us by our own actions. The same day will be fair and sunny, dark and cloudy, storm-lashed and terrifying, to different people standing side by side on the same street. Yet it is the same day, and only men's thoughts about it differ. But thoughts color the day, far more than the day affects them. So it is important what you think. What do you think? Are you persecuted? Is every man's hand against you? Or have you merely dredged a gloomy image up from the pool of your own mind. Deal in gloomy images, and they become a habit of thought; a fixed and dreary point of view; at last an obsession. From nothing, one may create disaster every day in life. Man cannot live long with disaster. He was born to live in sunshine; among friends, helping them and being helped by them. What is your way of life? It is a question none may answer easily; and few with any degree of security. Picture yourself setting out from home in the morning. Everything outside of your home, outside of yourself indeed, forms part of the circumstances of your life. How do you react to those circumstances? Follow, in your mind's eye, the individual that is yourself. How does that individual behave? How does he, or she, greet others? How do the others behave. Is all that persecution, or is it merely a number of different individuals all moving about their own business? How much of all that have you made your business? What are you doing about your business? Follow the individual that is yourself through the whole of a day, through one hour even, objectively, and you will be astonished at what you see. It is a strange experience, if you can achieve it; but not many folks can. That is why you meet the persecuted, the despairing, the bewildered so often on the day's round. If it is the world, it must be the world of mankind.

It is not so that the birds live. It is not so with a horse, or a dog. It is not so with trout in the stream, with salmon in the river, with dolphins at sea. It is not so with the bee in the orchard, the ant on the path, the mouse in its corner. It is not so with any of Nature's other creatures; and man is a creature of Nature, in that such is his present state. Mankind, indeed, has been given the only plusage in Nature; the ability to reason. How does he use it? He searches his mind for all that is dark and gloomy; for all that is obscure and tortuous; for all, in a word, that is unreasonable, then stares the sun in the face, and calls this a bad day and life a disaster! The trouble with man is that Nature was not good enough for him. He wished to build his own world. He wanted things his way, against the tides, the clouds and the seasons. Now he has built something he does not seem quite able to master; because he has failed to master himself. He wanted his food without labor, his fun without effort, effect without cause. He invented governments to give them to him; and governments, there have been, who even promised to do so, but they cannot because such a state of affairs does not exist outside of the human mind. Deep is the pool of the mind. Fortunate are they who learn to dredge in its depths; selecting, combining, creating the very tools with which today must be worked out in action. For today, beyond all else that it is, will be precisely what we make it, each and every one of us.

Do you know that the Madison Square Garden has guaranteed the Langley Lakesiders of Toronto and another girls' softball team from Winnipeg the sum of $750 each for a two-game series with the Roverettes of New York next month? They figure a lot of girls' softball in the Garden during the World's Fair . . . War Admiral, famous son of Man o' War, will be back on the racing strip shortly after recovering. He will be running before the present Jamaica meeting ends. Recently he did the half mile in forty-nine seconds . . . It's a mighty good bet that Bill Stewart, former manager of the Chicago Black Hawks, will be back in the National Hockey League next season as a referee. Bill was handling out decisions in the N.H.L. before taking over the msnagerial duties of the Hawks. He led them to the Stanley Cup in 1938 with the odds about 20 to 1 against him and then was ousted by the erratic Major McLaughlin half way through the last campaign . . . According to word from Jimmy Todd from Madison, New Jersey, tha former Victoria amateur golf champion is getting along fine in his new duties as one of Ralph Guldahl's assistants. A Story Anyway

We are told this may be a true story, so it probably is. An American visitor drove up to a local gasoline station displaying a large sign on which was lettered the word "petrol." When the attendant came up the motorist asked if he sold petrol. The young man stood in open-mouthed wonderment until the American asked for "gas."—W.I.F.

In the Dog House

A Brighton Avenue housewife gave her husband $3 to purchase the week-end groceries. Several hours later he returned with a number of parcels and an excuse. "I hope you do not mind, dear," he commenced. "I am $1 short in the change. But I bought you a little present." The better half opened the proferred package and found herself holding a bottle of Spring tonic. A few days after the incident the housewife purchased a floor mop from a canvasser. When friend husband came home from his store she informed him she had a present he would like. "It is on the back porch. Go and open the parcel," she urged. Much to his surprise, he found it was the new floor mop. Since that time he has been compelled to use it on the floors . . . A departmental store manager whose feet and legs felt tired at the end of each busy day, bought himself a pedometer. The next day he was amazed to discover the device showed he had walked a total of twenty-three miles.—G.B.

A PERFECT ROAST

The saying holds: a perfect roast
Commemorates a kindly host.
But that it turn out a success
Depends on feminine finesse.
The first essential woman needs
Is peace of mind so that she heeds
The proper flavoring of the dishes
As per fastidious gourmets' wishes.
And secondly—no need to stress—
Is gumption plus fond tenderness
When basting viands—lest they burn
So they be just done to a turn.
In short, she needs a heart most kind,
A sweet solicitude of mind;
A sort of true maternal care
For all the lovers of good fare.
I feel the world agrees with me
No evil woman this can be.
Which adds a comment to the start.
A perfect roast comes from the heart.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of April 26, 1889)

Excited Land Boomers—A scene that almost rivaled the frantic rush of land-seekers to Oklahoma was created at the land office in Seattle on Wednesday morning and Tuesday night. The Government authorities had advertised two townships of valuable timber land near Seattle to be thrown open for settlement, and on Tuesday night when the land office closed, a number of men congregated and formed a line, with avowed purpose of staying all night, that they might be first to make filings next morning. The crowd was rather disorderly, with the police finally interfering. The first to file was a young woman, who had coolly brought a chair, elbowed her way through the mob, taken a seat near to the door, and there calmly awaited the opening of the land office.

Good Haul—The sealing schooner Mollie Adams, Captain Solomon Jacobs, has arrived at Seattle, after a two months' sealing cruise, with some 900 seal skins, which were caught near the northern end of Vancouver Island. Captain Jacobs is well pleased with the work of the Adams, but thinks she coulu have done far better if permitted to have gone into Bering Sea. He intends to return after taking on supplies, and will cruise up to Bering Sea for seals, and then complete his cargo with rodfish from the seas.

N.P.R. Office—The Northern Pacific Railway Company have leased an office in the old Bank of British Columbia building, which they will at once proceed to fit up in the most modern style

DRAMA CONTEST ATTRACTS MANY

Wilkinson Road Y.P.S. to Compete Again Tonight at Junior High School

Wilkinson Road Young People's Society won first-night honors in the fifth annual drama festival of the Greater Victoria United Young People's Union by defeating two rival teams last evening at the Central Junior High School, where the finals of the contest will be decided tonight.

Entitled "Not Quite Such a Goose," this Elizabeth Gale comedy, directed by W. Allen, had to forego a detailed adjudication because, as winning play of the opening night, it is to be presented again this evening. Adjudicator Ross A. Lort, of Vancouver, thought it would give a possible unfair advantage to the Belmont United Young People's Society, which is presenting the same play tonight, if he appraised the Wilkinson Road Society's performance before that was seen, but he did characterize the play itself as "bright and alert, with good situations, and a clever study in the psychology of youth." It would be interesting, he told the audience of young people, to see how another group of young people would handle the same play.

ANALYSES PLAYS

Detailed analysis was made by the adjudicator of the work of the individual players in each of the other presentations last night, and a number of recommendations made for improvements. The first play, by First United Y.P.S., was Blanche Bayliss' "Honesty—It Pays," directed by Jay Pogson. This was played by the following: Ted Myers, as the wealthy banker; Henry Golden; Mary Loudoun as Martha, his housekeeper; Ken Simpson as the physician, Dr. Turner; Jack Gillis as the son, Dick; Alec Crawford as Bob Turner, in love with the banker's daughter, Anne, a part played by Glenys Hale.

Speaking of Anne's "long and difficult part," the adjudicator said it had been charmingly played. This was the heaviest of the roles.

The other play was Le Roy Stahl's "Hot Biscuits," presented by Centennial Young People's Society, with J. McCague as director. Those in the cast were Orval Bennett as Walter; Norman Land as Teddy; Elcanor Breeze as Mrs. Koski; Irene Birkett as Mac; Phyllis Smart as Gertrude Hall; Maud Land as Miss Amy St. Clair, and Gordon Hatch as Christopher Long, Jr.

A piece of general advice to young actors was given by the adjudicator when he called attention to the mannerism of "nervous rocking" noticed in two of the performers in this play. He also warned actors not to turn their faces completely away from the audience when addressing someone on the stage, as past a certain angle the voice became almost inaudible. Actors also must let the audience see their faces clearly and "establish the character" even if the part called for having the face averted later on.

WINNING PLAY

Playing in "Not Quite Such a Goose," the winning play, were Helen Ritz as Mrs. Bell; Alan Ritz as Albert Bell; Patsy Gilham as Sylvia Bell; William Allan as Philip Flick, and Jessie Ritz as Hazel Henderson.

In concluding his adjudicatory comments Mr. Lort said that he had enjoyed the whole evening very much. The young people were, he realized, working at a distinct disadvantage in not having been able to hold a rehearsal on the Central Junior High School stage, and so had no opportunity to discover the facilities for getting on or off, or the size of the stage.

Mun Hope, president of the society, introduced the adjudicator.

The three plays to be seen tonight, and from which, plus last night's winning play, will be selected the winner of the J. W. Spencer Trophy, are Belmont Y.P.S. presentation of "Not Quite Such a Goose," and St. Aidan's Y.P.S. in "Mutiny in the Ranks."

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of low water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock add 18.9 feet.

WAGES WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Kincaid Tells of Efforts To Combat the Ravages Of Disease

Dr. Frederick Kincaid, in charge of the tuberculosis clinic located here under the Government of the province, expressed his appreciation of the good work done by the Kiwanis Club to assist in the fight against the dread disease, speaking at the luncheon meeting of the club yesterday in the Empress Hotel. In addition to Dr. Kincaid's address on the work being done throughout the province, pictures were presented showing the pathetic effect of the malady on the human family.

The picture was supplemented with musical numbers, the plot being laid in a negro settlement. It was entitled "Let My People Live."

In his address Dr. Kincaid stressed the importance of getting cases early in the progress of the disease. Education in connection with the ravages of the disease was alluded to, and the importance of this was brought home.

Recently there had been a move to combat any symptoms of the disease in the high schools of the province, the speaker said.

SIR LYMAN DUFF

Sir,—All that you say about Sir Lyman Duff may be perfectly true, but there is no reason to suppose that his successor will not be just as capable. The fact remains that at seventy-five a man should certainly make way for someone else. We say, Canada is a young man's country; well, this can hardly be, if a special Act of Parliament has to be passed to allow the Chief Justice to continue in office at the age of seventy-five.

The chances are that the next one in line for that position is already in the 50's or 60's, so that he will be well on the way to sixty-five before taking office; and this latter age should be the limit for anyone employed in the judicial and public services of the country.

ATHLETIC HALL BEING BUILT IN METCHOSIN

METCHOSIN, April 25.—A new hall is to be erected in the Metchosin district, to be known as the Metchosin Athletic Hall. Workmen have commenced to demolish the old community hall, and it is hoped the main room, forty-five feet by sixty feet, will be ready for opening in the Fall. The hall and building committees comprise Mrs. G. F. W. Jennings, H. Walker, Miss J. Pears, F. C. Blake, E. Blake and Mrs. W. Witty.

According to Culbertson

(Copyright, 1939, by Ely Culbertson)

On many occasions I have pointed out that slams in no trump are safer than at a suit denomination. Naturally this applies only when all four suits are securely stopped and, in addition, when there is a very long and solid suit available to produce the bulk of tricks. The following letter backs up this theory with a vengence.

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: This interesting hand showed up last night in our team-of-four contest and almost broke up the party:

"North, dealer.

"Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ A K J 4 3
♦ K 10 7 4
♣ A 3

WEST
♠ 10 3 2
♥ 6 5 2
♣ K Q 10 9 8 7 6

EAST
♠ 9 5
♥ Q 10 9 8 7
♦ Q J 9 6 3 2

SOUTH
♠ A K Q J 8 6
♦ A 8 5
♣ J 5 4 2

"At one table South landed at six spades. West opened the club king and, when North covered, East ruffed. South now started to pray for a heart return, but East (not unnaturally) picked a diamond. West ruffed in a gleeful and highly ungentlemanly fashion and returned the club queen, followed by the club six. East over-ruffed dummy's seven spot and returned another diamond. When North regained consciousness he chalked up a four trick set.

"At the other table South arrived at a six no trump contract. As before, the club king was opened, but this time the ace won. Six spades were run off. Now South had to stop and think. He recalled that East had discarded three diamonds and two hearts on the four leads to which he had been unable to follow, and the mystery was solved. With only three diamonds still outstanding declarer led the ace and king and a third round. East won and had to return a heart from his Q 10 9 up to dummy's A W J. Six no trump, bid and made, vs. six spades down four. Some swing!—H. D. H., Boston."

While reiterating the remark that a six no trump contract often is safer than a suit contract, I must confess that I am baffled when I attempt to reconstruct the bidding that landed South at six no trump. It would seem that, after South bids the spades strongly, it is only North who can mention no trump, since it is he who has the quick club stopper. Of course, I can visualize some such bidding as this:

North	East	South	West
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	3 ♣
3 ♥	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 NT	Pass	6 6NT	Pass
Pass	Pass

By using the 4-5 no trump convention as a slam try South can make himself declarer. Buth this does not explain how he dare risk a six no trump contract when he does not hold a single heart in his hand for communication and solidifying purposes. I must confess that in this particular case I would have met the fate meted out to the unfortunate gentleman a table No. 1.

Minor Changes in Taxation and Tariff Are Made in Budget

tion to office in the two successive United States trade agreements and the recent revision of the United Kingdom trade agreement.

All tariff changes, as well as changes in the Excise Act and the special War Revenue Act, will go into effect at midnight tonight.

Delivering the fifth budget speech of his parliamentary career, the minister refrained from oratorical flourishes, probably bearing in mind his severe illness of last Summer. He spoke for an hour and a half in an even tone of voice, and only when he reached the last paragraph did the vigor which usually characterizes his utterances show itself.

APPEALS FOR MORE PRIDE

That was when he appealed for less bickering and destructive criticism in Canada, remarking that other peoples regarded this country as fortunate. Canadians should see themselves as others saw them, and develop a national "esprit de corps" which would enable them to solve their problems.

Hon. J. Earl Lawson (Cons., York South) took the role of official Opposition financial critic, and adjourned the budget debate after a few comments. He asked how the Government expected people to invest in industry when every year it followed a policy which made for uncertainty as to the conditions under which industry operated.

The 3 per cent import excise tax was removed from all goods entering Canada under the intermediate or British preferential tariff rates, but remains on goods entering under the general tariff. The budget thus went a bit farther than the Government was required to do pursuant to the United States trade agreement.

Und that treaty Canada undertook to remove the tax from all commodities mentioned in the agreement coming from the United Stes. This meant, of course, that it had to be removed from all such commodities entering from any favored nation.

CUSTOMS TARIFF CHANGES

Some seventy-seven changes were made in the customs tariff. Most of them were reductions. Increases in the rates on cocoa beans, fresh tomatoes, bananas, dectrines, corn meal, corn for distilling, tin, rubber, combs, cocoa mats and matting were announced.

For business men and financial leaders, Mr. Dunning had not only tax changes but words of advice and criticism. In effect, he told them there was too much holding back of industrial development in Canada, and that industry should get busy and put men to work, thereby relieving Governments of heavy outlays which went to make deficits.

"I speak with all candor and with no attempt whatever at defensive criticism," he said, "when I say it is in the field of private investment that leadership and courage are most needed in Canada today.

"There are many business and financial men who have been using every resource to improve processes, expand plant and equipment, or set up new industries. Their efforts have my sincere admiration, but they are far too few in number.

LACKING IMAGINATION

"In general, I must confess to a disappointment with the lack of imaginative business leadership in recent years, certainly as compared with that shown by the generation that built our railways, opened up the West and transformed this country in a short span of years into one of the great industrial nations of the world."

Aggression in Europe with its threats to world peace had a deterrent effect on world business, but need not retard business in Canada. It was both foolish and cowardly for Canadians to try to keep their capital liquid in case of war.

In periods of unemployment and recession, Governments had to spend money, said Mr. Dunning. The days days of "laissez-faire and devil-take-the-hindmost" had gone forever. Governments had to relieve distress, but Government spending would never bring enduring prosperity. The measure of Government expenditure in a Democratic country was likely to be the measure of the failure of private enterprise to do its duty.

ESTIMATES DEFICIT

Revenues for the fiscal year ended last March 31 were placed by Mr Dunning at $501,677,000, and expenditures at $532,343,000, leaving a deficit of $30,665,000. This, however, did not take into account prospective losses arising from the 80-cent fixed price on wheat and to take care of this he added another $,000,000 to expenditures, putting the ultimate defi it at $55,666,000.

"On the expenditure side, the main estimates provide for a total expenditure of $457,200,000, of which $29,400,000 represents defence expenditures which are being capitalized under the special sinking fund plan," Mr. Dunning said. "To the remaining $427,800,000 must be added $122,300,000 asked for in the special supplementary estimates which have already been tabled, making a total of $550,100,000. If any further supplementary estimates need to be provided during the year, I believe we may assume on the basis of past experience that they will be offset by savings made by the departments in the appropriations based on the main and special supplementary estimates.

"The estimated total expenditure of $550,100,000 includes the railway deficit, but does not take into account any additional loss which may possibly occur in marketing the 1938 wheat crop, over and above the $25,000,000 for which provision has already been made, nor does it take into account possible losses with respect to the 1939 crop.

"No man could possibly estimate what these items may amount to or make even a reasonable guess.

"Leaving aside, therefore, any expenditure in regard to wheat, there will be a probable gap between our revenues and expenditures during the new fiscal year of about $60,000,000.

HOPED TO AVOID DEFICIT

"Needless to say, I am disappointed to have to contemplate another deficit of this size. I had fervently hoped that this year I would be able to offer the House a balanced budget, and as a result, be in a position to begin the process of reducing debt and taxes. I have already outlined the reasons why this 'consummation devoutly to be wished' must be deferred, and I have discussed at some length the forces which must be set to work to make it possible.

"Let no one think that I have changed my mind in regard to the necessity of a balanced budget. Doubtless, I will remain the target equally of two extreme schools of thought; on the one hand, those who believe that budget balancing is an outworn fetish, that a nation can continue to do what would soon bring an individual to disaster; and on the other hand, those who believe that Government expenditures should be ruthlessly slashed regardless of the social distress which would thereby be caused.

"I trust that Canadians of good will, regardless of party, will see that such criticism is merely the penalty which must be paid by public men who go neither to one extreme nor to the other, but try to take the common sense middle course.

MUST END SOMETIME

"In times of depression, as I have already shown, increased expenditures on the part of governments are a sheer social necessity. Nevertheless, no nation can go on indefinitely with a budget heavily unbalanced without sooner or later providing a real, not an imagined, basis for fear as to the soundness of the country's financial position. If that fear should take root, nothing which a government could do short of taking over gradually the whole field of private enterprise, could offset the slowing up of private enterprise and the reduction in employment and incomes to which fear and uncertainty would give rise.

"Canada has had ten years of unbalanced budgets. There is as yet no reason whatsoever for any fear as to our national solvency. But this process cannot go on forever. Governments must be eternally vigilant that they do not simply take the path of least resistance which is that of easy spending. The private citizen must be awake to see that governments resist that temptation.

"Business and financial leaders must make every effort to expand production, employment and incomes in order to avoid the necessity of governments embarking upon work-creating programmes.

PLEADS FOR CO-OPERATION

"I for one am convinced that, given peace in the world, if we all put our shoulders to the wheel, we can soon so galvanize our economy that national income will be raised to a point where unbalanced budgets will be a nightmare of the past for the nation as well as for the individual citizen.

"On the basis of the analysis which I have given, and particularly in view of the forecast which I have made in respect of the overall deficit for the new fiscal year, honorable members will, I think, agree that any major reductions in taxation beyond the proposals with respect to the special excise tax are clearly impossible. Under current conditions of business recessions and the continued threat of international lawlessness, we must courageously face the demands made upon us for unemployment and agricultural distress and for the vital requirements of national defence.

"Much as I regret it, I am forced to ask our taxpayers to continue for the time being to bear approximately their present burdens, because I am convinced that for us to give up tax revenues at this time would only cause greater burdens and probably other serious difficulties at a later date. The size of our expected deficit might, indeed, suggest under more normal conditions an increase in tax rates, but I prefer to make the present rates yield more revenue by doing everything possible to promote an increase in the national income."

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning, and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores, or any druggist, a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription, and is highly recommended. It is easy to use, and it seems the height of folly for anyone in risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost. (Advt.)

MANY ACCOUNTS ARE UNCLAIMED

Bank of Montreal Endeavoring to Locate Owners of Varying Sums

Strange as it may seem, more than 250 accounts, representing small and comparatively large deposits lodged with the Victoria branch of the Bank of Montreal, have remained unclaimed for periods of many years, and the bank is at present launching a campaign in an endeavor to locate the owners of the accounts.

In most cases the accounts obviously have been forgotten by the depositors, but in others the possibility of persons having died and left balances in the bank that have never been claimed by relatives was suggested by G. Hamilton Harman, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, in an interview yesterday.

NAMES CONFIDENTIAL

"Most of these unclaimed balances," he said, "are for small amounts, although some run as high as $959. We would like to get in touch with the owners of these deposits, but so far our efforts have been unsuccessful. We cannot very well publish their names, as all banking transactions are strictly confidential."

While most of the accounts under review have remained dormant since 1900, there are a few dating back further, the oldest of which the bank has record being dated 1863.

In the case of accounts in the savings department, the bank is prepared to add interest at current rates during the whole time the account has been dormant, which will mean that in some cases the principal sum will be more than doubled.

Although the campaign has only just started, the bank has already been successful in locating relatives of one or two of these old depositors, and anyone who has reason to believe that his or her name may be on the list is urged to get in touch with the bank without delay.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Present: Martin, C.J.B.C., McQuarrie and Sloan, JJ.A.

Home Oil Distributors, Ltd., et al. (R) vs. Attorney-General of British Columbia et al. (A).

Argument continued yesterday before the Court of Appeal here on the validity of the British Columbia Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board Act. Hon. J. W. deB Farris, K.C., counsel for the respondent oil companies, wound up his six-day address to the court with a strong plea against any further extension of Provincial powers at a time when Canada, as a nation, was attempting to deal with its problems in a national way. Following Senator Farris, J. Pitcairn Hogg, assistant counsel to the Attorney-General, opened his reply for the appellants.

Senator Farris, at the close of his argument, said that for the courts to declare the Fuel Control Act valid would be to set the clock back. "The whole trend of modern industry and of modern science," said Senator Farris, "is to reduce distances and to bring peoples closer together. Already the efforts of the Dominion Government to deal with national problems such as, for example, hours of work have been frustrated through a narrow interpretation of the Canadian Constitution, and to restrict the powers of the Dominion still further, especially at a time when Canada was conscious of having become a nation, would be to turn the clock back."

At the close of Senator Farris' address, Hon. Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., Attorney-General, informed the court that J. Pitcairn Hogg, assistant counsel, was specially qualified to deal with matters arising out of the Fuel Commission Report and that he had thought of dividing the reply into two parts, one to be dealt with by himself and the other by Mr Hogg, but that on reconsidering the situation he thought it best that the reply should be dealt with by one counsel.

J. Pitcairn Hogg, in opening his reply, submitted that much of Senator Farris' argument would have been more properly addressed to a commission on Dominion-Provincial relations. What the court had to decide was whether the Fuel Control Act was within the powers of the Province under the B.N.A. Act as that act now stood.

Supporting the validity of the Fuel Control Act, Mr. Hogg argued that the only direct effect of an enforced price reduction in gasoline would be to curtail the local revenues of the oil companies. "How the companies deal with such a curtailment of revenue," said Mr. Hogg, "would rest with the companies themselves. They could reorganize what the Fuel Commission found to be a wasteful and extravagant method of distribution, or they could make up the reduction out of reserves or out of profits made elsewhere or in any way they decided." It would only be, continued Mr. Hogg, in relation to their British Columbia operations that the companies would be affected directly. How the companies adjusted themselves to the change, whether by adjustments within or without the province, was a matter over which the Provincial Legislature was not concerned since the Province was only legislating as to a provincial aspect of the matter.

J. Pitcairn Hogg will continue his reply today.

Hon. Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., and J. Pitcairn Hogg for the appellants. Hon. J. W. deB. Farris, K.C.; R. Symes, and H. E. M. Ellis for the respondents.

L. Howell (R) vs. N. H. Wallace (A) and A. V. Green (R).

The application of J. A. MacLennan, counsel for the appellant, for leave to set down the appeal and to transfer the hearing to the next (Vancouver) sitting was granted by the Court of Appeal here yesterday. The application was unopposed.

J. A. MacLennan for the appellant. Hon. J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., for the respondent, A. V. Green.

R. D. Harvey for the respondent, L. Howell.

Cameron (A) vs. Carr et al. (R).

Leave was granted by the Court of Appeal here yesterday to extend the time to file the appeal books in this case. The appeal was placed at the foot of the list for the Victoria sitting, it being understood that owing to the number of cases on the list the appeal would of necessity be transferred to the May sitting of the court at Vancouver.

Hon. J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., for the appellant.

A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., for the respondents.

PEREMPTORY LIST FOR TODAY

Motorcycle Meet

The annual Kirk Cup trial for motorcycle riders will be held next Sunday and all checkers and observers are asked to meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in Shanks' store, 919 Fort Street. Final instructions will be given to all officials of the trial.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW ARRANGED

Victoria Horticultural Association Sponsoring Floral Display at Willows, May 5 and 6

With the beauty of Victoria gardens in evidence everywhere, an opportunity is offered the public to view specimens of floral Spring beauty under one roof on May 5 and 6, in the Main Building at the Willows. On that occasion the Victoria Horticultural Society sponsors the Spring flower show, and arrangements for this function are nearly completed.

All competitive exhibits will be judged and the public will see, among the various exhibits, novel flowers which will adorn Victoria's gardens in the future.

Preceding the flower show from May 3 to 6, over thirty of the finest private gardens of Victoria and surrounding districts will be open to those who wish to see them. Information regarding these garden tours may be obtained from flower stores.

EARTHQUAKE IN PERU

LIMA, Peru, April 25 (AP). — An earthquake of considerable strength and duration shook the Lima area at 8 a.m. today, but no casualties or serious damage have been reported.

TRAINING WILL BE COMPULSORY

ment tomorrow probably will take the line that the tense international situation, and the need to satisfy wishes of nations to which military guarantees have been given, make it necessary for the British Government to introduce the scheme.

TO MEET OPPOSITION

It was reported in Parliamentary lobbies that the Government may attempt to soften the Labor Party's opposition to military training by some form of "conscription of wealth," possibly through limitation of profits from armaments.

It will be the first time in modern history of Britain that compulsory training has been adopted in peacetime. No other part of the Empire has it, although Australia has a compulsory national register.

Mr. Chamberlain was said to have decided it was imperative that Sir Neville Henderson be in Berlin when the conscription announcement is made, so that he could give the explanation as a fully-accredited envoy of his Government.

TO STRENGTHEN ALLIANCE

Announcement of conscription was expected to strengthen the Anglo-French alliance, with the likelihood Soviet Russia would enter the bloc soon and that Turkey would follow. Russia and France were said to have insisted upon compulsory service as necessary to assure British strength to back up her pledges.

It was understood the Prime Minister had instructed Sir Neville to tell Hitler that:

1. Conscription is purely a defensive measure.

2. It is to be a part of the British obligations to her few allies and its aim is to assure peace through strength.

3 Britain has no intention to encircle Germany, but is determined to maintain the national independence of her allies.

4. Britain fully endorses President Roosevelt's appeal to Italy and Germany and urges them to co-operate in his plan for a ten to twenty-five-year peace agreement.

NEW POLLING PLAN STATED

Victoria, With Parts of Esquimalt, Saanich and Oak Bay Affected

How the multiple polling division system will affect Victoria electors in both provincial and federal ridings was sketched out yesterday by P. A. Willis, secretary to the Victoria Conservative Association. The abolition of wards will make only few territorial changes, ward boundaries to a large extent being preserved.

The area formerly comprised by Ward One will include polling divisions Nos. 1 to 12, both provincially and federally.

Ward Two will be succeeded by polling divisions Nos. 13 to 30, provincially and federally.

Ward Three will include polling divisions Nos. 31 to 55, together with polling division No. 99 (Jubilee Hospital), provincially; and the same area with polling division No. 136 (the Saanich wedge) added, federally.

Ward Four will take in polling divisions Nos. 56 to 73, provincially and federally.

Ward Five includes polling divisions Nos. 74 to 98, together with No. 100 (St. Joseph's Hospital), both provincially and federally.

OTHER AREAS

Esquimalt does not come into the Victoria area provincially; but in federal polls the municipal area of Esquimalt will, served by polling divisio is Nos. 125 to 135.

Oak Bay wards, at present the same provincially and federally, will change after dissolution of the Legislature, when the new provincial riding of Oak Bay will be brought into being.

Former Ward Six is replaced by polling divisions Nos. 101 to 112; and former Ward Seven by Nos. 113 to 122. After dissolution, the provincial riding of Oak Bay will also add polling divisions Nos. 123 and 124, which extend to Ten Mile Point.

The Victoria Conservative Association has prepared a special map showing the new arrangements in detail, Mr. Willis said.

GIVES ADDRESS ON SAN FRANCISCO FAIR

The only complaint registered against the San Francisco Exposition by Harry B. Dawson, in addressing a luncheon meeting of the Credit Granters' Association in Spencer's dining-room yesterday, was that the British Columbia exhibit, in the Court of the Western States, was not shown on the official guide maps. As a result, he said, few of the fair attendants knew it existed.

Mr. Dawson was particularly impressed with the beauty of the fair under its changing colored lights at night. He said it took him three days to see all he wished without entering the amusement zone.

The speaker denied rumors of high prices in San Francisco, expensive meals on Treasure Island, and unfinished gaps in the fair itself.

He was introduced by L. E. Evenden and thanked by Leonard Cox, president. At next Tuesday's luncheon Mr. Evenden will speak on "The Honorable Company," in observance of the 269th anniversary of the founding of the Hudson's Bay Company.

WILL ALLOW TAX CREDITS

exceeding one-third of the aggregate amount of the deductions authorized."

Other changes in the act will affect mining companies. Any metalliferous mine coming into production after December 31, 1939, and prior to January 1, 1943, shall be exempt from income tax for the first three fiscal periods following commencement of production.

DIVIDEND EXEMPTION

Dividends paid by metalliferous mines to Canadian companies during the time such mines are exempt from taxation under Section 89 of the act, shall be exempt in the hands of such Canadian company.

The tax imposed at the source of payment by Canadian debtors to non-residents in respect of films, whether copyrighted or not, is to be increased to 5 per cent on the total amount of such payments. It is now 5 per cent on 40 per cent of the total.

A $14,000 exemption limit is imposed on salaries, bonuses, directors' fees, or other remunerations paid by Canadian companies to non-residents. That is, the total exemption to be allowed a Canadian company in respect to such payments shall not exceed $14,000.

Another budget resolution sets forth that general overhead expenses of companies shall be rateably apportioned between the taxable and the non-taxable income of such companies.

The personal exemption of $1,000 allowed an estate or trust taxable under the act is to be removed.

PERSONAL CORPORATION

Dividends paid by a personal corporation out of capital gains, after all the income of such corporations has been taxed against and received by its shareholders, shall be exempt from taxation.

"The savings of the people must be increasingly converted into tangible productive capital in order to expand the national income, restore normal business activity and solve the problem of unemployment," said Mr. Dunning.

"We cannot have full employment or true prosperity until private initiative takes the lead in expanding capital works. Labor is unemployed because capital is hibernating. This lethargy of capital must be ended so that our ability and willingness to produce shall not be frustrated and allowed to stand in wasteful idleness."

The exemption granted new mining enterprises from income tax was being extended because the three-year exemption granted in 1936 had proved beneficial, said Mr. Dunning.

"With a similar purpose in mind, I am recommending to the House another measure which involves the application to all productive industry of the principle which has been applied with such beneficial results to the mining industry.

JUSTIFIES EXPANSION

"The Government proposes to offer what I believe will be a powerful incentive to all industries to go forward immediately with any justified expansion of plant and with such modernization of machinery and equipment as the progress of recent years has made essential.

"Any firm, therefore, which begins after May 1 next the construction, installment, betterment, replacement or extension of plant, machinery or fixed quipment will be allowed a credit against income tax equal to 10 per cent of the costs incurred for such capital projects prior to April 1, 1940.

"It will apply to any firm in any industry whether organized as an individual firm, partnership or corporation, except, of course, a new metalliferous mine which already has the benefit of the three-year exemption from corporate income tax.

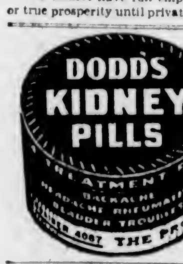

INDUSTRIAL IMPROVEMENT

"I am convinced that this measure will have highly desirable results both immediately and permanently. During the present year it should serve to counteract the several factors which have been holding back new private investment in so many cases and should thereby promote a substantial expansion of employment both in heavy construction and in the machinery and equipment industries. But it should do more than this.

"It should help to place our industries on the most modern and up-to-date basis, enabling them to cut costs, to compete more effectively in both the domestic and world markets, and thereby to be in a position to maintain prosperous employment for the longer run future."

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP). — The Government moved today to broaden markets for low grade Canadian apples by increasing the excise duty on imported vinegar spirits in order to stimulate use of apple cider in manufacture of vinegar.

In his budget speech, Finance Minister Dunning announced a duty increase of from twenty-seven to sixty cents a gallon on all imported spirits used in the manufacture of vinegar.

EDMONTON IN HOOP VICTORY

Grads Rally to Defeat St. Louis Legions, 35-24, as Series Opens

EDMONTON, April 25 (CP).—After a shaky start, Edmonton Grads rallied to defeat St. Louis Legions, 35-24, here tonight in the first game of a three-of-five series for the Underwood International Women's Basketball Challenge Trophy. The second game will be played here Thursday.

Grads, holders of the trophy since it was donated in 1923, failed to get their attack or defence settled against the United States invaders' early rush, and Legions scored eight points before Grads found the range.

Then the Canadians opened up a heavy attack, counting fourteen points before the end of the first quarter, while holding St. Louis scoreless.

Coach J. Percy Page's hoopsters outscored Legions, 8-7, in both the second and third quarters to lead, 22-15 at half-time, and 30-22 going into the final session. Legions were able to get only two points in the last ten minutes, while Grads counted five.

Etta Dann, veteran guard, led in scoring with nine points. Mabel Munton, who played although not fully recovered from an illness in order to bolster the weakened Grads, counted six points.

Centre Bernice (Dizzy) Frillman was top St. Louis scorer with eight points.

CHANGES IN TARIFF FEW

Completed automobiles are unaffected by the budget, but in compensation for removal of the 3 per cent excise tax, under the United States agreement, the tax has been removed from automobile parts.

DUTY ON COCOA BEANS

Some effort to stimulate imports from the British West Indies is seen in the boost from $2 a 100 pounds to $3 in the general tariff against cocoa beans. Canada has no trade agreements with a number of the Latin American Republics and up to the present has imported substantial quantities of that product from those sources.

While increasing trade with the West Indies, the raising of the tariff will give this country a greater bargaining power in event of future efforts to negotiate treaties with the southern countries who are still under the general tariff.

In the same schedule the duty on tomatoes has been increased from 2 cents a pound to 3 cents. The chief loser in this will be Mexico, from which country came most of the out-of-season tomatoes. What Mexico loses will be gained by the United States, in all likelihood. The tariff against the United States tomatoes is 1½ cents.

CRUDE RUBBER AND TINS

It is not expected there will be any effect either way from the imposition of the 5 per cent ad valorem on crude rubber and primary forms of tin. This appears in both the intermediate and general tariffs and may compensate the exchequer to some small degree for elimination of the 3 per cent excise tax.

These commodities formerly entered "free across the board" and under the British preference and most-favored-nation tariffs they will continue to do so. Practically all the crude rubber imported into Canada comes from Malaya, via Canadian ports, and already enjoys the British preference. It will consequently continue to be unaffected by the 5 per cent impost.

Tin is in the same category, entering Canada principally from British countries and enjoying the same concessions as crude rubber.

TARIFF ON BANANAS

An increase of 50 cents a stem, under the general tariff, has been placed on importation of bananas. The main benefactors from this change will be the West Indian exporters as against those Central American Republics with which the Dominion has no trade agreements.

Under both intermediate and general there are increases on certain dextrines, cornmeal, corn for distilling purposes and combs, while under all tariffs cocoa mats and matting have been increased.

In the case of the cocoa mats and matting the increases take the form of changing the ad valorem rates to specific rates, making comparison difficult. In the former case the duty was calculated on the value of the import, and in the latter the duty is exacted irrespective of its value.

DUTIES ARE REDUCED

Duties have been reduced on starch, professional reference books, various oxides used in the processing of steel, soda ash, cod liver oil, piston ring castings, brass wire, apparatus used in beet-sugar refineries, gas welding apparatus, commercial bakery ovens, metal-faced plywoods, filter cloths and safety helmets.

Reductions also were made in worsted yarns used in weaving fine cloths, certain braiding yarns, coke used in making rock wool, fish meal, certain billets of wood, cotton fabrics for handkerchiefs, and materials and parts, of a class and kind not made in Canada, used in making machinery which is dutiable under a number of tariff items.

VEGETABLE OILS

Mr Dunning noted the tariff board's report on vegetable oils. The board recommended a reclassification into oils used in shortening, which would be dutiable at 3 cents a pound, and those used to make soap, which would be dutiable at 2 cents.

Any alteration in the tariff however, would require consultation with the United Kingdom, under the terms of the British trade agreement. Communications have been sent to the British Government. Should the proposals of the Canadian Government be accepted, the changes will later be incorporated in the tariff schedules when the House in in committee on the budget resolutions.

The increase would mean a revenue in the neighborhood of $5,500,000, it was estimated.

In general, the changes in the tariff schedule have been made to bring approximately two-thirds of the items involved into harmony with the United States trade agreement.

Women Challenged To Express Ideal By United Action

Mrs. A. H. Askanasy, Recently Arrived Here From Vienna, Addresses 450 Members of Women's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel

THE pressing need for something in the nature of a woman's party, which would represent a purely feminist ideology aligned against the "terrible power" of hatred and destruction working today in the world, was intimated in the eloquent address by a Viennese woman, Mrs. A. H. Askanasy, given for an audience of 450 Women's Canadian Club members at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Introduced by the president, Mrs. Harold Campbell, as a woman at one time prominent in the political and social life of Vienna, a victim of Nazilism and terrorism who had to leave her homeland, Mrs. Askanasy arranged her material round the subject of "Women in the Democratic and Totalitarian Countries."

Rapidly she sketched the political, social and economical changes that had swept over her country during the past twenty years. While this was under man government, within it had developed the women's movement, which in its inception sought equality of women with men in opportunity for study, for entering the professions and political life, and for the franchise.

DEMOCRATIC IDEAL

Democracy in its ideal intimated government by the people. And surely women were people as well as men. But in what country did men and women play an equal part in ruling the country? Most so-called democracies were content with the evidence of political equality if but one or two women were elected.

The speaker challenged women with being ineffective in advancing the woman viewpoint that was wrong. Once in political office women were expected to become merely puppets, meekly obeying their party leaders, in not demonstrating that there was any difference between [illegible] and women's point of view [illegible] n the moment a woman sho [illegible] y independent tendency of tho[illegible] she was turned out because "she disturbed the party." The percentage of women in politics was still too small for them to express their views fearlessly. Furthermore, too often women of real independence of thought were not chosen. The psychological effect of this was women had lost their courage, accepted defeat, feeling that it was impossible to attain that for which they f ght.

An example of the dictatorial attitude of party was cited in the instance of an Austrian woman in ministerial office, who had been compelled to bring in a law that women members of parliament and teachers would not be allowed to marry. When Mrs. Askanasy had reproached her saying it was of little use to elect women to parliament if they were going to bring in laws placing women in a worse position than they were before, this woman had assured her that refusal to obey the party would simply have meant that she would be turned out. Women who accepted such treatment without a fight should not offer themselves for election, said the speaker. Exposure of the facts would have been welcomed by the opposition press.

"A real democracy would be that country ruled 50 per cent by men and 50 per cent by women," stressed the speaker. Women themselves were to blame that this condition did not exist.

EFFECT OF FASCISM

Present-day Austria had the condition that women had been refused admission to the universities, and, except since the exodus of Jewish doctors, were not allowed to become doctors. The Socialists, on paper, offered absolute equality to women. In reality this worked out that they were allowed to face any kind of danger and persecution. Under Communism in Russia were there any women ministers? Both under Socialism and Communism women had but to obey.

Mrs. Askanasy pictured Nazi Germany, where food substitutes were coming into wide use, where there was an awakening of women to the fact that their children were being undernourished, where breaking up of family life tended to result from inculcation in the children of principles opposed to freedom of thought even in the home.

Mrs. Bernstein moved the vote of thanks to the speaker, recalling that Mrs. Askanasy had been inspired to take up the study of public questions after hearing Canada's Miss Agnes McPhail at an international conference of women in Europe some years ago.

The soloist yesterday was Miss Patsy Swift, who, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jamie Cameron, gave very delightful renderings of "Sea Mood" and Ernest Charles' "Clouds."

Announcement was made that the next club meeting would be Sir Robert Holland, who will speak on Tuesday, May 9, on "Recent Political Developments in India."

Schubert Club Renders Fine Performance Here

A popular ladies' choir, the Schubert Club, under Frederick King's direction, which appears before the public several times in the course of a year, last night at the Oak Bay United Church, gave another of its varied and pleasing programme.

Stanley Bell, 'cellist, for some years instructor at the American College of Music, Seattle, and a member of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, now leading 'cellist with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, was a guest artist. Lawton Partington played selections on the newly-installed Hammond electric organ, and members of the Schubert Club contributing groups of solos were Sheila Conway and Janet Swetnam, sopranos; Elinor Swain, mezzo-soprano, and Ruth Helen Tait, contralto. Helen Ockenden and Margretta Green gave splendid support with their accompaniments on the piano.

AMBITIOUS NUMBERS

"Land Sighting" (Grieg) sung by the Indian choir in which the incidental solo was sung by Miss Swain, a Norwegian story in music of King Olaf Trygvanson, who travels across the sea in search of new lands to conquer, came as a brilliant climax to the programme. The strength of power and depth of the voices were brought out in this rendition. Another ambitious number was "On the Sea," by Dudley Buck.

A delightful number was "The Two Clocks" (Rogers), which represented the slow motion of the old grandfather clock and the spirited ticking of the French clock. The Schubert numbers were "Wither" and "Impatience."

GOOD TONE

Fine technique and real contrast were noteworthy in the selection, "O Peaceful England," the contralto solo being sung by Mrs. Tait. "The Song of the Bell" (Oliver) gave splendid opportunity for good work. Mrs. Swetnam was heard in "Sing, Joyous Bird" (Phillips) and "Silent Noon" (Vaughan), and Miss Sheila Conway sang two numbers by Rachmaninoff, "Floods of Spring" and "At Night." The mezzo-soprano group, sung by Miss Elinor Swain, were "My Sweet Repose" (Schubert), "The Organ Grinder" (Schubert) and "Carmena" (Lane Wilson).

"Andalusian Serenade" (Karl-Kampf), a dainty number seldom heard, was played in the first group of 'cello solos by Mr. Bell. The other numbers were "Ave Maria" (Bach-Gounod) and "Sarabande" (Corelli). Mr. Partington's two selections on the organ were "Andante" from "Sonata Op. 14" (Beethoven) and the melodic "Under the Leaves" (Thome).

Smart for Afternoon Wear

(Copyright, 1939, by Fashion League.)

To complement the fresh, Summery appearance of white lingerie on afternoon dresses, Jeanne Tete, exclusive milliner of Bonwit Teller, in New York, ingeniously uses a perky bow of "broderie Anglaise" on a mushroom of rough straw. With dark crepe dresses, flaunting bibs of white and with little print suits, this afternoon hat is the perfect choice.

FATAL

A certain magistrate was once discussing beverages with a fellow club member.

"Have you ever tried gin and ginger beer?" asked the young fellow.

"No," replied the magistrate, "but I've tried a lot of folks who have."

CO-OPERATION AS KEY TO PROBLEM

A violent storm lashed the committee today, raging for upward of an hour and centred on the question whether the matter of a union terminal in Montreal came within the scope of the committee's inquiry.

Heated voices charged Government Leader Raoul Dandurand with seeking to tie the hands of the committee by his insistence that discussion of joint terminal facilities for the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific in Montreal was taboo.

Other senators joined in the discussion, which developed into a free-for-all.

DEFENCE CAUSES HIGHER TAXES

the highest £2,000 of an £8,000 income rises from 47½ per cent to 52½ per cent.)

THE LARGEST YET

The budget is the largest Britain has ever had in peace time. Last year the total was £944,389,000.

On estates exceeding a $50,000 value, a surcharge of 10 per cent of the existing duty was fixed. The rate is 15 per cent for an estate of £50,000 and rises to 50 per cent.

Despite the sugar tax increase of one farthing on the pound and the tobacco tax of eleven shillings sixpence ($2.17, which was an increase of forty-six cents), the budget was regarded as "not too hard" on the "little man" but rather one hitting wealth the hardest.

The Opposition assailed the budget as "inflationary" because of the borrowing scheduled for defence funds.

STOCKS SLUMP

Tobacco and automobile stocks slumped in small after-hours market trading. Importers of British Empire tobacco, principally from Rhodesia, were jubilant and predicted the increased duty would force more smokers to turn to their products, on which they receive a preferential duty.

The huge automobile tax increase—from fifteen shillings to twenty-five shillings per horsepower—was the biggest shock, and automobile associations issued statements of protest. (A year's licence for a light car will cost about $175.) Motor-cycle taxes went up proportionately.

ESTIMATED YIELD

Sir John estimated the automobile licence increase would provide £6,250,000 annually when it goes into effect next January 1. The tobacco tax would yield £7,000,000 this year and the sugar tax £4,000,000. Additional revenue of £7,000,000 was anticipated from the change in the surcharge and estates duty.

He imposed an excise duty on photographic film and plates manufactured in Great Britain, amounting to fourpence halfpenny a square foot, but exempted X-ray and dental films. Certain rebates will be allowed in order not to hamper production of British films. Customs duty on imported blank film and plate was increased to ninepence a square foot. From these imposts he estimated a yield of £800,000.

The Chancellor budgetted for a nominal surplus of £156,000. Total revenue he estimated at £942,600,000 and total expenditure of £942,444,000. Borrowed money will make up the difference between £942,444,000 and the total it is planned to spend.

The House of Commons tonight approved all the taxation changes.

SADDLE STRINGS by Oren Arnold

CHAPTER III

This afternoon, though, as if it were a part of unwritten routine, (which indeed it was!) Luther and Don went out to the corral and saddled two horses, and Luther led them to the porch. Alita was buckling on her surs.

"I'll tighten them," Luther spoke, and stooped to do so.

"You're gallant, Luther," Alita smiled her thanks. "I'll bet you would have made a grand knight in armor."

"Aw shucks! Never catch me dressing up in a tin can!"

He and Alita mounted then, and because the horses were rested and peppery, she forthwith challenged him.

"Race to the big cactus," she said.

"Hi—yip Hi!" He shrieked his acceptance, and the horses leaped.

She won the race, a measured half mile. She was a lighter jockey by some seventy pounds; but Luther, riding Midnight, plunged through with terrific power not over a length behind. They reined to a walk. Midnight still snorting impatiently.

"Chieftain is like a deer," Alita patted her mount's shoulder. "Big Midnight is like a fast ore truck."

"He's a fine animal. I wish Mr. Bradley'd sell him to me!"

"He wouldn't trade Midnight for all your cows, Luther."

"I know it!"

"Where shall we ride?"

"You say."

"The Rim Trail. We can climb up and watch the sunset—if you aren't afraid to be out so far alone with a pretty girl?"

"You're getting conceited! Who's been telling you you're pretty?"

Alita laughed gaily then. She loved to tease.

"You said it yourself. You didn't tell me, but the news got back to me. Gossip always does, young man!"

"Shucks!" grumbled Luther, grinning. "Well, it's so."

"Why, Luther, you're being romantic! Are you about to propose or something?"

"Aw, Alita, I'll be darned—!"

"Ha-ha-ha-ha!"

She pushed on ahead, breaking trail through brush, moving up and up. Luther rode grinning, but feeling glum. That was always the way; Alita bested him, at everything. He couldn't fathom her. She seemed to read his thoughts. Sometimes, teasing, she stung a little, but she didn't mean to. Glory, look at her now! Riding up there like a—like a queen! Molded to the horse. Supple, and graceful; muscles flowing like a panther's, hers and the horse's, weaving in and out of the rocks and brush, around and up and over. Glory!

Up five or six hundred feet they came to a trail that cattle use in moving to water, and so the riding was easier. There, too, Alita's mood changed. Bantering she laid aside, and she admitted the boy-and-girl intimacy that so thoroughly lifted Luther, and so often disturbed him as well.

"Don't seem like you are awfully happy," he mentioned, after some scattered conversation. "Anything on your mind?"

"No. Nothing much, just restlessness."

"About what?"

"Well, Luther, everything! I mean—oh, it's loneliness, I guess. We never see anybody out here. Never see anything."

He didn't understand that. He leaned an elbow on his saddle horn, turned sideways to stare at her. Then looked off at the landscape. He was about to say that here was everything! What he saw was in truth, everything. Everything to him. He could look down at the Bradley Ranch house, the Bar B now a dot beside the cliffs. Away off yonder eleven miles he could make out a dark spot which he knew to be the cottonwood trees around his own spring and water hole, even if he couldn't make out his own two-room cabin. He could see the mystic skyline of Superstition Mountain, and the unmistakable heights of Four Peaks, and all the purple, red, blue-and-golden beauty of the Mazatzal Range. At hand he could see the bunches of grass and the tender browse, and knew they were good, knew they were like money on deposit.

"Unh hunh," he said, noncommittally, staring off. "Well, I s'pose it's natural to be homesick for your college friends, and all."

"Don't you ever miss your Phoenix friends, Luther? You went to college two years. Don't you just yearn for the city? The—the people? The gaiety? The lights and life and good times? That's living!"

"Oh, sure. Nice, all right. They come out, and I go in to see them, some. Look how the sun's busted through that low cloud, like colored spokes on a big wheel! Doggone!"

She liked that too. It was what they had climbed for, to get a front-row seat, so to speak, for nature's grandest show. "Yes, Luther, but you can still see the sunset in town! Can't you? Of course." She answered her own question, but Luther nodded too.

"Yeah, sure. But—well."

They weren't getting anywhere, conversationally, and they knew it. Of one accord they rode slowly on, still gazing westward. Chieftain and Midnight followed the trail and presently topped The Rim. Instantly a stiff wind whipped them, demanding attention momentarily toward the east and north.

Spread there, too, was a magnificent panorama, a wilderness tinted more generously, with sweeps of green and splotched with cliffs of bronze. Any other time it would have caused a gasp of admiration. But a significant new touch instantly caught Luther's alert eye.

"There's smoke!" he declared, pointing.

A mile away it was, a column of smoke lifting straight up, then veering suddenly as the wind caught hold. It rose from a scrub oak thicket. And even as they stared they noted that it came in puffs, or rather in a broken column. The man and girl peered intently. A quick sense of alarm had suffused them.

"A signal!" murmured Alita.

"Sure's you're born!" he agreed, spurring Midnight. "Come on!"

INSURANCES ON INCREASE

General Policies Showed Decided Gains in British Columbia in 1938

Accident, sickness, machinery, marine, public liability, property damage, hail, and miscellaneous insurances all increased in the value of premiums written in British Columbia during 1938, according to the preliminary report of H. G. Garrett, suuperintendent of insurance for the Province, released yesterday. Loss ratios were high with respect to several types of coverage.

Marine insurance accounted for $1,185,914 in premiums received, and $623,322 in losses paid, compared with $1,263,146 and $570,631, respectively, in the year previous.

LOSSES SUBSTANTIAL

Accident premiums totaled $577,538, against losses of $299,688; compared with $569,279, and $296,770.

Public liability premiums amounted to $212,465, with losses of $71,124, against $190,052, and $57,284.

Property damage insurance netted premiums of $202,917, and losses of $71,894, against $79,831, and $8,664.

Sickness insurance accounted for $170,195 in premiums, and losses of $85,109, compared with $152,669, and $102,064.

Theft insurance premiums were $189,339, and losses of $81,325, as against $191,854, and $64,690.

Guarantee insurance collected premiums of $114,434, against losses of $36,901, compared with $151,290, and $9,587, respectively in 1937.

MISCELLANEOUS RISKS

Other insurances, premiums and losses, for 1938, showed the following results: Inland transportation, $119,137, and $31,733; boiler and machinery, $40,330, and $15,380; plate glass, $58,155, and $43,073; employers' liability, $13,701, and $3,050; hail, $9,457, and $868; weather, $614, and $502; and miscellaneous, $4,806 in premiums, and $363 in losses.

A number of policies were written on aviation, without any losses reported in aviation coverage during the year.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If April 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m.; from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m.; from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

It will be a great mistake for you to act unreasonable in any way on this date. Let your sense of justice dominate all of your actions, if you would end the day with a mind free from worry. Unbridled tongues will get their owners in trouble, especially as there is not likely to be any justification for the average unkind remark that is apt to be made. Impressions formed on this day will probably be lasting ones, so it will be good judgment for everyone to strive to create only good ones. There is seldom any logical excuse to be offered for rudeness or any display of ill-temper. Harmonious conditions will prevail for any person striving for them. Do not give yourself any undue concern over the future, for changing conditions are likely to be very favorable for the working out satisfactorily of matters in which you are vitally concerned. Married and engaged couples, and those waiting impatiently for an adjustment in their affairs which will permit them to announce their bethrothal or marriage, must "slight not what's near through aiming at what's far."

If a woman and April 26 is your birthday, you may show too much resentment if some of your fixed ideas meet with opposition, which is a grave mistake. As time passes your outlook on life and your views will probably undergo a decided change. Greater toleration and liberality are apt to work a decidedly transitional overthrow of your traditional beliefs and youthful theories. Ignorance, with which you have little patience, is likely to be a bugbear with you. Your social achievements may cause you a great deal of gratification. There appear to be few chances of your meeting with failure in any of your undertakings, and there are indications of numerous successes. Your achievements as a teacher, artist, musician, actress, lecturer, broker, business manager, writer, or secretary ought to be noteworthy. The man you marry and yourself, in all likelihood, will be in complete accord when it comes to likes and dislikes of persons and things affecting your home life.

The child born on April 26 is frequently endowed with a keen humor, an even temper, plenty of spunk, and a knack of being able to make himself popular. Prosperous conditions apparently will result from consistently good work after he has entered upon a professional or commercial career.

If a man and April 26 is your natal day, your many good qualities ought to more than offset your few faults. As a clergyman, architect, educator, actor, doctor, sales representative, author, or singer, your ambitious hopes are likely to be realized.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Peter Rabbit Jumps for His Life

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Black Pussy wasn't the least bit hungry. Oh, my, no! She had had all the milk she could possibly drink and all the meat she wanted besides. In fact, Black Pussy never had known since she was born what it was to be hungry and not be able to fill her stomach. So this beautiful Spring morning she had had the best of breakfasts and there wasn't the least excuse in the world for her to even think of hunting anybody. Now Black Pussy can be as gentle and loving as anyone I know of. She can purr so softly that you would never guess that she can be cruel and heartless, and that in her heart always is the longing, the black longing, to hunt and kill. It is because of this that she is so hated and feared by the little people of the Green Forest, the Old Orchard and the Green Meadows. They wouldn't mind so much if she had to hunt them in order to live. It is because she doesn't have to hunt them, yet does it, that they hate, fear and despise her.

On this particular morning she sat on the doorstep of Farmer Brown's house trying to decide whether to go down on the Green Meadows to try to catch Danny Meadow Mouse just for fun, or to go over to the Old Orchard and see if she could catch one of the feathered folks there. From where she sat she could see the Old Orchard. Presently she saw something moving there. A cruel, eager gleam crept into her yellow eyes.

"Ah!" murmured Black Pussy to herself. "It's that Rabbit who lives down in the Old Brier Patch. What business has he up here, I'd like to know. He has been too smart for me so far, but one of these days I will be too smart for him. I'll just keep my eye on him now. He seems to have something on his mind. I hope he has. If he has he'll be careless. I never knew it to fail."

Of course it was Peter Rabbit, and you remember he did have something on his mind. He was trying to find the new home of Winsome Bluebird. Black Pussy watched him as he hopped about through the Old Orchard, looking up in the trees for a glimpse of the beautiful blue coat of Winsome Bluebird. She saw that Peter was so interested in what he was doing that for once he had forgotten to watch out for danger. Swiftly and silently Black Pussy stole across to the stone wall on the edge of the Old Orchard. Carefully she raised her head and peeped over, the tip of her black tail twitching with eagerness. Peter was hopping about in the most careless way.

It was a regular jumping match, and Peter's life was the prize for which they were jumping

Black Pussy crept over the wall, and then, making herself as flat as possible, crawled swiftly behind a tree and lay flat down in the grass. Nearer came Peter and nearer. Only the tip of Black Pussy's tail moved. A hard, cruel light grew in her yellow eyes. Nearer came Peter and nearer. Careless Peter! He knew that the Old Orchard was not a safe place for him in broad daylight, but he had forgotten. Dear me, dear me, what a dreadful thing it is to forget. Here was Peter letting his curiosity lead him straight into danger and forgetting to even watch out. And there was no one about to give him warning. Another hop would bring him within a single jump of Black Pussy.

Right then she made a mistake, a mistake which other people often make. She let eagerness overcome patience. Yes, sir, that is what she did. Instead of waiting for Peter to make that next hop she crept forward just a few steps, just as she prepared to spring on him, Peter saw her. Right then and there there was a lot of jumping. To begin with, Peter's heart jumped right up in his mouth. Anyway, he thought it did. Peter himself jumped, jumped with all the strength of those long hind legs of his, which, you know, are meant for jumping. And Black Pussy jumped. It was a regular jumping match, and Peter's life was the prize for which they were jumping. For just a wee bit of time, as long as it would take you to count one, it was a question which would win, Peter or Black Pussy.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SUNSHINE INDOORS

Appealing "indoor sunlight" pictures can be made with the simplest cameras. Photo lights may be used to brighten shadows.

"Indoor sunlight" snapshots are easy with box cameras and high speed film. SS, subjects; WW, sunny windows; C, camera; PP, photo lights in reflectors to brighten shadows.

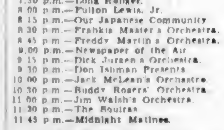

MOST sunshine pictures are made outdoors. But charming sunshiny pictures can be made just as easily indoors wherever the rays of the sun stream through a window.

Such indoor pictures are especially attractive when the sunlight is used as "backlighting." The picture above is "backlighted" — the sun comes from a window behind and slightly to one side of the subjects. Therefore the subjects are surrounded by a bright edge lighting and interesting shadows are thrown toward the camera.

When you make these backlighted pictures it is wise to use photo lights to brighten the shadows (see diagram). This not only produces a better picture effect but shortens the exposure. With photo lights arranged as shown a snapshot can be taken with a box camera loaded with high-speed film. Other cameras 1-25 second at f.11.

Interesting silhouette pictures can be made too when the subject is placed in front of a sunny window. If a silhouette is desired, do not use the photo lights or a reflector of any kind to illuminate the shadow side of the subject. With subject against a sunlighted window make a snapshot with the second stop opening on a box camera.

Try a roll of "indoor-sunlight" pictures. Many charming effects can be obtained, and snapshots of this type have a cheery, homelike touch that makes them treasured possessions.—John van Guilder.

"THE GREAT UNWASHED"

Shakespeare writes of a "lean unwashed artificer," his reference undoubtedly being to the gentleman's uncleanliness.

However logically such a conclusion may be drawn from the phrase "the great unwashed," the words were originally used rather in the sense of class distinction than as an animadversion to the presence of—as it has been euphemistically called—misplaced matter.

The father of "the great unwashed"—the figure of speech—is Edmund Burke, noted English orator and statesman whose philippics in favor of England's granting independence to the American colonies are studied by every schoolboy.

Burke coined this ideograph in allusion to the great mass of humans comprising the so-called "commoners," that is, the "average man"—and it immediately became established in the lexicon.

MERE OVERSIGHT

A London literary weekly publishes a pastiche short story about Eskimos, one of whom lives on an island in a lake. He reaches the mainland by a bridge of ice. When a character flies from the island after an escapade he breaks down the bridge to prevent pursuit.

It seems to have occurred to no one that if there was enough frost for the bridge no bridge was necessary.

WINDSOR WINS THIRD GAME OF CANADIAN FINALS

Foxx's Long Drive In Eleventh Frame Settles Close Game

Homer Over the Leftfield Wall in Extra Innings Gives Boston Red Sox 6-5 Victory Over Senators —Phillies Beat Giants Again

(By the Canadian Press)

After watching his first 1939 homer go to waste, Jimmy Foxx timed No. 2 yesterday to give his Red Sox a 6-5 victory over Washington Senators in eleven innings.

With one out in the second extra frame, Foxx whaled Joe Krakauskas' first pitch for a prodigious drive that cleared the left field wall and landed on a roof at least 450 feet from Fenway's home plate.

The Sockers had tied it up in the ninth when Foxx scored on Jim Tabor's single. Krakauskas, of Hamilton, Ont., went the full distance, giving nine hits and ten passes.

John Kramar, twenty-one-year-old rookie right-hander, limited Detroit Tigers to six scattered hits as he won his major league debut for St. Louis Browns, 7-2.

It was no mistake when Manager Oscar Vitt shoved Bruce Campbell into the Cleveland outfield for Earl Averill, who hasn't been hitting his weight. Campbell connected for two circuit blows, good for five runs, to lead Indians to a 7-1 victory over Chicago White Sox.

FELLER WINS AGAIN

Bob Feller evened the series by hurling four-hit ball for his second triumph of the campaign in as many starts. He fanned nine.

New York Yankees celebrated announcement of Joe DiMaggio's engagement by belting three pitchers for thirteen hits and an 8-4 American Baseball League victory over Philadelphia Athletics.

DiMaggio confirmed reports he will marry Dorothy Olson, motion picture actress, next Winter or the Winter following.

George Selkirk, of Huntsville, Ont., paced the attack, collecting a homer and two singles. Nick Etten whacked a homer for the A's, with a mate aboard, off Bump Hadley in the sixth after Red Ruffing retired because of a pulled muscle in his pitching arm.

Chicago Cubs clung to their National League leadership when Bill Lee pitched them to a 5-3 victory over Pittsburgh to win his second triumph of the National Baseball League season.

Bill Herman drove in three Chicago runs with a walk, a single and a double. But it remained for Stanley Hack to pace the attack with a triple, a double and a single.

Cincinnati Reds, the "people's choice" to win the National League race, clipped St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1, today. W. Myers drove in two runs with a homer in the seventh.

The Phillies stretched their undefeated string to five straight with an easy 8-1 victory over New York Giants. Phils were paced by Gil Brack's homer, double and two singles.

The Dodgers ended their winless streak at four straight by ripping Boston Bees, 3-2, behind the steady seven-hit pitching of Luke Hamlin.

Australian Rugby Fifteen Will Play Here in February

TOURING Australian ruggers will play a series of four games in British Columbia next February, Fred Cabeldu, president of the British Columbia Rugby Union, announced here yesterday on his return from California. The "Aussies" will be returning from England and will have twenty-one days between their date of arrival in the province and their departure for home. In addition to the matches in British Columbia, it is quite probable that the Australians will perform at California, Cabeldu stated. Harry Maloney, president of the California Rugby Union, informed Cabeldu that his board would be glad to entertain the players from Down Under, and, as the situation looks at present, the "Aussies" will play three matches in the South. Manager of the British Columbia team at Treasure Island, San Francisco Exposition, Cabeldu stated that the boys were well-behaved on the tour, and the play of the forwards caused much favorable comment in California. He paid tribute to the excellent work of Jack Bain, Vancouver, coach of the provincial squad.

JACK STEELE PASSES AWAY

Well-Known Vancouver Athlete Dies Following Several Transfusions

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP).—Jack Steele, prominent city athlete, died today in hospital following a month long illness.

He was admitted to hospital for an appendectomy March 27, but complications set in and necessitated two subsequent operations and fourteen blood transfusions.

Steele was known in Canadian football and track and field circles in Vancouver and was a backfield star at the University of British Columbia from 1929 to 1933.

He was a star performer with the Vancouver Athletic Club entry in the Big Four Canadian Football League and was playing coach of the Knights of Columbus team here the last two seasons.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

English Cup Final On This Saturday

BY PERCY J. WOODLEY

Soccer's major attraction — the glorious fight for the English Cup — is just as popular as ever. Late in November sixty-eight clubs, including twenty-seven minor professional and amatuer clubs, provided rousing football for 300,000 fans and unusually surprising results. As an individual unit the great and only ambition of each team was to play at Wembley with the cup at stake. Class will tell and only two now remain to fight for the cup and the glory which goes with it—Wolverhampton Wanderers and Portsmouth. On Saturday morning crowds will troop to Wembley and when the whistle blows upwards of 100,000 fans will enjoy the thrills which only this now historic enclosure can provide.

What a glorious contest it has been—the contest for the cup that cheers, but also shocks. The gamble has been terrific—the luck of the draw, the run of the ball, the tenement of the excitement, the risk of injury—has been faced and successfully surmounted by both teams. They have emerged victorious to face each other on Saturday for the final card. Endurance, pluck and determination has brought merit to both. Each deserves a cup, but there is only one. Two gland teams in this final—and what a final it should be.

Twice have Wolverhampton won the cup—in 1893 and 1908—but Portsmouth have yet to see their name written in that historic book. Ten years ago the Southern team reached the final only to be beaten by two clear goals by Bolton Wanderers and in 1934 Manchester City deprived them of cup honors by the odd goal of three. Wolverhampton Wanderers have been in the final five times, Portsmouth twice. Wolverhampton's first cup was obtained at Everton's expense by a solitary goal, their second by the defeat of Manchester United by three goals to one.

The luck of the draw has favored the finalists. With the exception of the semi-finals all their games have been played before home crowds. Both teams successes have been gained by clean-cut victories and Barclay (Huddersfield) was the only player to penetrate Portsmouth defence in five cup games. They are worthy opponents.

WOLVERHAMPTON

Early in the new year Major Frank Buckley's proteges created surprise by the manner in which they were slowly but surely climbing the league ladder. There were few hotter favorites in the early days of big league cup competition, which was a wonderful tribute to the youth and power of the Wolverhampton club. In a recent league game two sixteen-year-old wingers and an eighteen-year-old half-back were in the Molineux team and one winger scored a goal. Bradford went out in the third round by 3 to 1, Leicester City in fourth round by 5 to 1, Liverpool in fifth round by 4 to 1, Everton in sixth round by 2 to 0. Their semi-final victims were Grimsby Town by 5 goals to 0, Nineteen goals to three was the total score, of which D. Westcott (centre forward) obtained eleven.

Gland treatment is gaining a hold in football and the effect of it will be watched by thousands of managers, players, supporters and critics. Wolverhampton Wanderers' wonderful success is attributed to the effect of a decision to resume gland treatment in the third month of the present season. The stamina of the Wolves is remarkable, their speed above average. Improved concentration and ability, greater resistance against infection, general building up of the body and a consequent increase in intelligence are attributed to the treatment. Introduced as an experiment, the results have been staggering.

PORTSMOUTH

Portsmouth's rise to stardom has been gained on their own beautiful ground at Fratton Park. Their own supporters have seen their visitors fall one by one until the only obstacle in the way of the cup for Portsmouth is Wolverhampton Wanderers. In their league meetings the Wolves were beaten at Fratton Park and Portsmouth was beaten at Molineux Park. Until the semi-final cup game Portsmouth had not conceded a single goal—they are the "dark horses." Quietly confident, yet not boastful of their good defence, which means much in cup ties, Portsmouth has an even chance of success. Lincoln City (4 to 0) West Bromwich Albions (2 to 0) West Ham United (2 to 0), the cupholders, Preston North End (1 to 0), then the cup finalists, Huddersfield Town (2 to 1). Eleven goals to one! What an impressive record.

Seldom has a trip to Wembley been more richly deserved than by Portsmouth's great victory over Preston. Every man pulled his weight, pouncing on the ball in a flash, giving the defence a real anxious time. Cup successes have come as a timely aid to Portsmouth's finances. Manager Jack Tinn is a most considerate supervisor and his players are the last to suffer. No wonder he is able to boast that during his regime at Fratton Park he has never known what it is to have a dissatisfied player. It is said that his fan mail would gladden the heart of a film star, even though the team does not enjoy a very high place in the league. Portsmouth can give it and Portsmouth can take it. They produced that little bit of class which made them superior to Huddersfield and that should stand them in good stead at Wembley. Pompey's chances of the cup are as good as the Wolves.

The only goal scored against Portsmouth in their cup progress was recorded by a score sheet reading, Huddersfield, 1, Portsmouth, 0, at half-time at Arsenal Stadium in the semi-final. Second-half transformation which came over the Portsmouth team was unbelievable. A crack was found in Huddersfield's defence, two goals were scored in two minutes and Portsmouth got to Wembley for the third time in ten years.

The cup finalists—Wolverhampton Wanderers and Portsmouth—which? Your guess is as good as mine.

EASTERN CHAMPIONS COME FROM BEHIND TO DEFEAT LOCALS

Alumni Hoopsters Chalk Up 30-24 Victory Over Dominoes in Close-Checking Battle—Victoria Basketballers in Front 10-4 at End of First Quarter—Fourth Game Tomorrow

of twenty attempts, very poor for a team playing in a championship final. On the other hand, Windsor excelled on gratis throws, getting ten out of eighteen, the difference between defeat and victory.

WEAK OFFENSIVE

Although the Dominoes were made to look poor in nearly every stage of the game, the Eastern champions fought tooth and nail for victory, which came their way through sheer determination, plus plenty of fight all the way. Victoria played a miserably weak game on the attack, their passes going astray, their shooting being erratic and their teamwork poorly organized.

Hank Rowe opened the scoring for the evening by sinking a beauty from Davies and Art Chapman, but twenty seconds later Nantais tied it all up. Rowe leaped a "mile" into the air to break the deadlock, and then Art Chapman banged in Rowe's rebound to make it 6-2 with four minutes gone. Jackson cut through the centre fast to increase the lead and, after Meretsky scored, Rowe shot home another two points to give the Dominoes a 10-4 lead with a minute left. The quarter ended with the score the same.

Meretsky found the hoop two minutes after the second period got under way, and then Stewart added two foul shots to bring Windsor within two points of the Dominoes. As play continued, Art Chapman fired home a one-hander and Taylor put one through from the foul line to make it 13-8 for the home aggregation. Allison took a long pass and scored with nobody within feet of him, and Stewart raced through for another field goal seconds later to bring the Alumni within a point of the opposition, and the Dominoes called time out, their third of the series.

MERETSKY TIES SCORE

The veteran Meretsky tied the score from the line, and then Stewart shot Windsor into the lead for the first time during the battle with a field goal. Allison fouled Taylor and the husky local forward converted both shots to give the Dominoes a 15-14 advantage at the rest interval.

After Taylor missed a foul throw, Allison cut through the centre and scored a one-hander to put Windsor back into the driver's seat with two minutes of the third period gone. Less than two minutes later, Chuck Chapman collided with Bert Davies, and the red-headed forward had to leave the floor.

Hank Rowe put the Dominoes into the lead with a great one-hander at 17-16, and then Windsor called time out. But it was only a few seconds later that Toots Meretsky pulled a beautiful fake play and scored right under the hoop with three minutes remaining. Hank Rowe came right back and batted back Jackson's rebound to put the Dominoes in front. Again the lead switched when Pendlebury broke clean through the centre court and scored with ease. With less than a minute still to go, Allison increased Windsor's lead to 22-19 as the third quarter finished.

WINDSOR WIDENS MARGIN

With Meretsky loose under the hoop shortly after the last period, the Windsor squad got another field goal, and the score was now 24-19. After Chuck Chapman added a foul, Meretsky dropped in two awarded shots, and the score board soared to 26-20 for the invaders. With five minutes remaining, Meretsky went out of the game on personals. Chuck Chapman and Pendlebury got in foul shots and the score was 27-21, and then the big Victoria captain found the hoop with a long shot, but Weiss converted from the strip and it was 28-23 for Windsor with two minutes left.

Only fifty-five seconds was left on the clock when Weiss got in a foul, and Davies duplicated the trick just twenty-five seconds later, and the gong went with Windsor holding on to the ball with desperation. Jackson went off on personals just seconds before the finish, but the ball game was lost.

Northwesterns won the Bob Whyte Shield in the consolation series in the Senior City League by defeating Palm Dairies by a 23-20 score after five minutes of overtime. In the first game the boys played to a deadlock. In another preliminary game, Caveys defeated the Bees by a 31-19 score.

WINNIPEG BOYS HOMEWARD BOUND

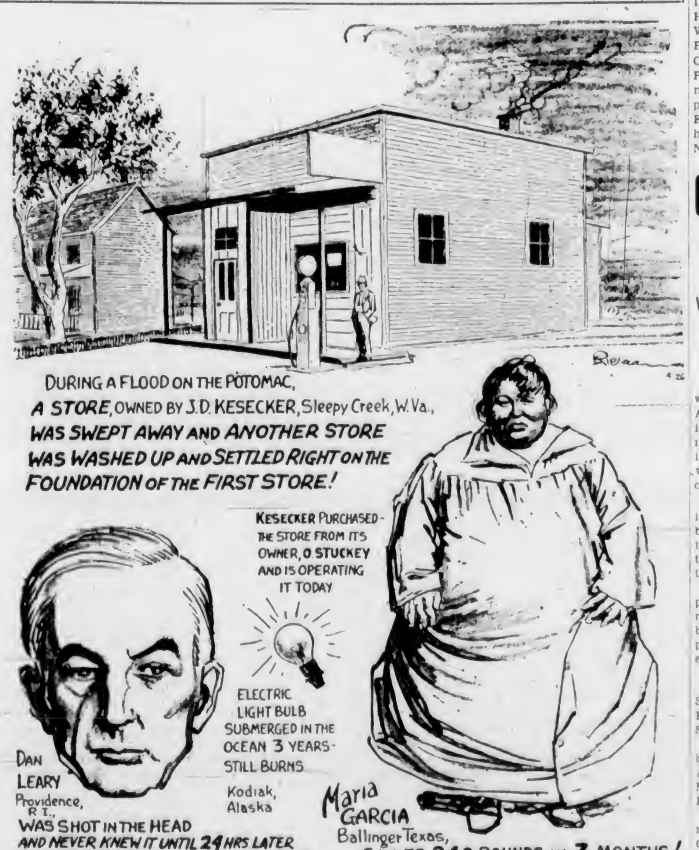

LONDON, April 25 (CP) — Doug and Bill McMahon, Winnipeg brothers, sought fame in Old Country soccer this season and drew even. Doug made the grade with Wolverhampton Wanderers Reserves but his brother was not so fortunate with Raith Rovers up in Scotland and now is homeward bound.

Promising inside-forward, twenty-one-year-old Douglas is regarded at Wolverhampton as a coming star. He played in one major league match—against Blackpool, December 31—and although he did not score he gave a sound performance.

Hard luck dogged Bill McMahon, who is twenty-three. He arrived at Kirkcaldy in Midwinter on a month's trial and ran into the most severe weather Scotland experienced in years. Two of the four games in which he was chosen to play for the Rovers' reserve team were postponed and in the others the playing field was like a rock.

Bill received his turndown with a philosophical shrug. "Well, Doug made good anyhow," he said as he prepared to leave for his Winnipeg home.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Three Presidents' Names—Although the United States called him Grover Cleveland, the former United States President was known as "Big Steve" in Buffalo, N.Y., for his baptismal name was Stephen Grover Cleveland. Thomas Woodrow Wilson dropped his first name in public life. Until he went to West Point, Ulysses S. Grant was called Hiram Ulysses Grant. However, he had been listed as Ulysses Grant by his sponsor for the West Point appointment and the records never were corrected.

The Snooker Pool Victory—Topping 100 is a much more difficult feat in snooker pool than breaking 100 is at golf. When Earle Berryhill, of Sapulpa, Oklahoma, cleared the table to score 117, he achieved what usually is a once-in-a-lifetime feat for even the ablest snooker pool players. His opponent broke the balls, after which Berryhill cleared the table without a miss.

Bee's Travels for Honey—Bee experts have estimated that a bee would have to make at least 20,000 round trips averaging two miles each to gather enough nectar to make one pound of honey. The honey-gathering trips would total 40,000 miles.

'FAST AND LOOSE' SHOWS AT ATLAS

Rosalind Russell and Robert Montgomery Co-Star in Attraction Opening Today

Rosalind Russell, who is co-starred with Robert Montgomery in "Fast and Loose," which will open this afternoon at the Atlas Theatre, had not always aspired to be an actress. She first thought of teaching, theology, journalism and writing.

Daughter of a prosperous attorney, Miss Russell enjoyed the advantages of travel to Europe, South America, Cuba and throughout the United States. When she reached a decision to become an actress she first joined a tent show, playing first small roles, which led ultimately to Broadway, where she appeared in the hit play, "Talent."

Ko-Ko Nuts Again Delight Audience

Another enthusiastic audience last night greeted the second and final performance of the "Black Ko-Ko Nuts," a musical programme in three acts and one scene, presented by the Majestic Council, No. 1513, Royal Arcanum, at the Royal Victoria Theatre. The proceeds are in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Written by Carleton W. Stocker, who is himself a member of the cast, and "black-face" from beginning to end, the production provided an opportunity for some of this city's best burlesquers in dance, song and instrument playing to display their talent.

Others in the cast included Douglas Park, Harry Warburton, Ted Eccles, Tom Kelway, Stan Anfield, Herbert Appiegate, Gordon Lewis, Leslie Stevens, Fred Townsend, William Logie, Robert Trowsdale, Fred Wilkinson, William Brown, Fred Watkins, Ted Blair, Robert Crombie, Harry Maddaford, Reginald Allen, W. Revercomb, George Stevens, Robert Brown, E. G. Browne, Reginald Freemantle, D. Meharey, Frank Howland, Reginald Graves, M. Speller, C. Armistead, Leslie Dash, George Brake, J. J. Stewart, Sidney Hole, C. Brand, F. Mellan, William Jones, W. Richardson, Al Stevens, L. Entwistle, A. Bennett, D. Flintoff and Douglas Flintoff.

CAPITOL THEATRE Superbly filmed in Technicolor, "The Mikado" comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as one swirling, rapturous emotion of music, laughter and color, with a cast of thousands, including the original D'Oyly Carte Company and principals, and recording done superbly by that great aggregation of musicians, the London Symphony Orchestra.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Fritz Lang, who directed Sylvia Sidney in the widely discussed film drama, "Fury," directed the charming brunette in "You and Me," the drama in which she appears opposite George Raft, for the last time tonight at the Columbia Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE For the picture "The Duke of West Point," now showing at the Plaza Theatre, an exact replica of West Point was built. In this entirely natural setting the stars, players and other performers lived as though they were at West Point. Director Green was aided and abetted by a technical director, whose job it was to pass on every item and on every movement of the players to make sure that the whole picture was at all times on an authentic basis.

DOMINION THEATRE Virginia Bruce, who is teamed for the first time with Walter Pidgeon in "Society Lawyer," now at the Dominion Theatre, is one of Hollywood's most enthusiastic autograph seekers. During each of her pictures, Mis Bruce keeps a huge leather-bound autograph album on the set and obtains the signatures of every player with whom she works.

OAK BAY THEATRE Eleven-year-old Virginia Weidler, playing a cowgirl in Arizona, teaches Andy Hardy all there is to know about bucking bronchos and equally hazardous rodeo tricks in "Out West With the Hardys," the fifth of the series of adventures surrounding the beloved "Hardy Family" of the films, which will close tonight at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Early Recovery Not Maintained On Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP).—Europe apparently looked a little better to the stock market today, and domestic business news was not so bad, but early recoveries of fractions to a point or so were reduced or canceled in many cases at the close.

With dealings nearly as sluggish as in the preceding session—transfers totaled 420,810 shares against 414,110 the day before—brokers generally thought price changes were meaningless. The Associated Press average of sixty issues was unchanged at 43.8.

Helpful was the disclosure General Motors first quarter earnings were the best for this period since 1929, aggregating $1.18 a share against 14 cents a year ago. On the other hand, first quarter net of U.S. Steel, reported after the close, was said to have been under expectations. Irregular price patterns were traced in the bond market.

Some U.S. Government loans again struck out for peak marks, gains ranging to 5-32 of a point, but these were offset by some losses of a much as 3-32.

Among foreign bonds, Italian issues were most in demand. Rome 6 1-2's added 1 7-8 at 52 and Italy 7's were up 3-4 at 61 1-4

WINNIPEG WHEAT RALLIES BRISKLY

WINNIPEG, April 25 (CP).—Wheat futures prices rallied briskly in late trading at Winnipeg today, stimulated by a sharp advance at Chicago due to unfavorable reports from the United States Winter wheat belt and export sales of Canadian wheat estimated at 500,000 bushels. Reports the British Government was planning a conscription measure also aided the upward trend.

Quotations at the close were 7-8 to 3-4 cent higher, May at 61 5-8, July 62 3-4 and October 63 7-8.

Liverpool finished 3-8d to 5-8d down while Chicago advanced 3-8 to 1 1-4 and Buenos Aires was unchanged to 1-8 cent off.

Lower grades of cash wheat continued to receive good support from exporters and mills. Trading in the coarse grains pit uncovered moderate interest in oats from export houses and mills.

TRADING DULL AT TORONTO MARKET

TORONTO, April 25 (CP).—The impending budget statement and the Friday speech of Chancellor Hitler, gave the stock market two excuses for moving quietly today. Only 314,000 shares changed hands.

Home Oil and Calgary-Edmonton weakened 3 to 4 and Davies gained a fraction. East Crest gained a point and Anglo-Canadian weakened slightly.

WHAT'S DOING ON THE LOCAL RETAIL PRODUCE MARKET

Dump duty on imported asparagus went into effect here on Monday, wholesale row officials reported yesterday. The duty was quoted at 4 cents per pound, causing a slight increase in that commodity. The price dropped considerably on hothouse tomatoes.

New arrivals yesterday included cars of Okanagan apples and California lettuce; a shipment of California carrots, peas and new potatoes, the price on the latter being slightly easier.

Strawberry supplies are being received daily from California. A car of Texas grapefruit came in yesterday and are now selling at 65 cents higher per case than in the former price. The final car of grapefruit of the season is expected shortly.

A large shipment of oranges from California is due tomorrow. A consignment of bananas from Central America will arrive the following day.

Local rhubarb is plentiful, wholesalers said.

PLAN TO CREATE CENTRE PARKING

Automobiles to Use Yates Street Block From 2 to 6 o'Clock In Morning

On recommendation of the public works committee, the City Council decided yesterday afternoon to permit centre parking along the middle of Yates Street, between Douglas and Blanshard Streets, from 2 to 6 o'clock in the morning. Space will be marked off for the purpose this week. Alderman Edward Williams explained the move was necessary in order to make room for the street sweeper.

Construction of a storm sewer on Dallas Road, between Cook and Marlborough Streets, was authorized at a cost of $105.

It was decided to purchase road oil from the Imperial Oil Company, Ltd., and the Union Oil Company of Canada, Ltd., for 4 cents per gallon. Sixty gallons of street marking paint will also be purchased from Bapco Paints for $178.69.

Removal of a boulevard tree outside 325 Robertson Street was ordered. The public works committee was asked to invite the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference to meet here in 1940.

Jane Dixon Says:

ANOTHER WOMAN IN A DILEMMA. SHE HESITATES TO CHOOSE THE MAN SHE LOVES BECAUSE SHE'S AFRAID OF HURTING ANOTHER MAN SHE LIKES

A woman who hesitates to choose the man she loves because by so doing she might hurt another man she likes either is mistaken about her love or she has made a mighty poor evaluation of the obligations and the sacredness of the precious gift life has poured into her heart.

Dear Miss Dixon:

I am very much in love with a girl who is one year my junior. I have told her that I love her and she, in turn, has confessed her love for me.

Our problem is this: Before I met her she went with a fine chap I know very well. He has been away for several months, but is planning to return soon. The girl has not gone out with anyone except me during his absence.

I was introduced to her by a mutual friend. I liked her immediately and asked her for a date. She promptly turned me down. I seemed unable to forget her and so asked her again and again to be allowed to call or to take her places. Finally she consented to go with me for a short drive.

Since that first drive we have seen a lot of one another and have grown to care deeply. In her letters she has told the other young man about me, but he has not given the least hint as to whether he likes it or not.

What should we do? She has told me that she cares for me more than she does for him, that she is not worried whether he returns or not. But she cannot bring herself to hurt either of us. I would rather lose her than cause her sorrow or trouble.

Put yourself in our place. Should I stop seeing her? Should I fight to win her completely? Should the other man and I leave it for her to decide which of us she wants? I love her. He loves her. She loves us both. Things can't go on like this much longer—I must know one way or another. I don't think I could stand losing her.—In Love.

Comment: If the girl really loves you and is worthy the love of an honest man she will have the courage to face her problem squarely and solve it with the truth which is the only fair treatment for the three of you. No true woman needs to decide which of two men she wants. Her heart makes the decision for her. The girl is doing the other man a far greater injury by leading him with false hope than she possibly could do by telling him of her change in heart. What is more, she is hurting you, the man she professes to love and herself so that three people are being hurt instead of one.

You think you can't stand it if you lose her? What are you going to do? A real man takes an adverse decision in a love affair with his chin up, knowing full well that trying to hold onto a heart which does not belong to him is a useless and empty game which can bring only unhappiness to all concerned in it.

Insist that the girl make her decision at once and abide by that decision with a man's strength and courage, no matter what it is.

That Body of Yours
by JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

HEADACHE DUE TO SINUS INFECTION

I have spoken before of the causes of pain in different parts of the head. Thus, in and over the eyes is due to eye strain; higher on forehead is due to sinus trouble; still higher on forehead and at back of head is due to indigestion and gas pressure. That is, the pain in the majority of cases is due to these causes.

Headache is one of the cardinal or outstanding effects of inflamation of the frontal sinus above the eyes—and this fact is not always suspected by the patient or sometimes by the physician.

In speaking of the headache due to frontal sinus trouble, the sinusitis headache, Dr. Francis White, New York, in the New York State Journal of Medicine, says:

"The headache may be entirely absent or so severe that the patient threatens dire things if not relieved. In an ordinary case, the first head discomfort is felt when the head is lowered, as in stooping, the feeling being described 'as if something heavy and painful wants to fall out.' A sensation of fullness or bursting may be felt in the same place when the patient coughs or strains."

A characteristic of headache from sinus trouble that enables the physician to tell the difference between frontal sinus and other kinds of headache is that the patient will state that the pain begins at a stated time, gradually grows worse, then gradually becomes easier and disappears several hours later at almost the same time every day. While the head is aching, tenderness over the frontal sinus (just above the eye) may be very great. Photophobia (fear of light) may be complained of, and the eyes may be bloodshot.

When the sinus in upper jaw, either side of nose, is infected and causing pain, the pain is in the cheek or in the upper teeth. An X-ray examination will show whether an infected tooth or an infected sinus (antrum) is causing the pain.

Pain of acute infections of the other sinuses, back of nose in line with eyes, may be behind the eyes, back of head, or behind the ear.

The above information, outlining the kind of pain and its location, should enable patients to tell whether or not their particular headache is due to sinus infection.

GRIM VISAGE

"There's a man outside, sir, that wants to see you about a bill you owe him. He wouldn't give his name."

"What does he look like?"

"He looks like you'd better pay it."

PAID SAME RATE

Royal Mail Lines, pioneers in the development of trade between the North Pacific Coast, Great Britain and the Continent, recently published their financial statement for 1938. Although having to contend with a number of disturbing factors, the result of the year's operations was, on the whole, satisfactory, the report states. Gross revenues from the company's various services showed a decline compared with 1937, nevertheless the same rate of interest (5 per cent) was paid stockholders.

The policy of writing down the book value of the fleet was also continued by Royal Mail Lines and a substantial sum was allocated to this purpose. Experience during the past year also showed that no reduction in working expenses took place—on the contrary, these, if anything, proved more burdensome, especially in respect of wages and the cost of maintenance.

Air Liner Taking on Fuel Above Clouds

Imperial Airways' preparations for regular trans-Atlantic services includes practice in refueling their long-range aircraft in flight. The picture, taken during trials now in progress, shows the Imperial flying boat Cabot receiving 1,000 gallons of petrol in mid-air from a specially constructed tanker. The whole procedure, as developed by Sir Alan Cobham, is completed within ten minutes. Cabot and her three Atlantic sister ships—Caribou, Connemara and Clyde—will be refueled by this method when Imperial Airways Atlantic operations commence early this Summer. This is the first official picture of an Atlantic aircraft being refueled in flight.

NO GOOD RISK

A man went into an insurance office to have his life insured.

"Do you cycle?" the agent asked.

"No," said the man.

"Do you motor?"

"No."

"Do you, then, perhaps, fly?"

"No, no," said the applicant; "I have no dangerous."

"Sorry, sir," the agent broke in, "but we no longer insure pedestrians."

CABLE SHIP ON LOOKOUT

Restorer Nearing Midway Island for Which Sea Dragon Was Headed

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25 (AP).—If Richard Halliburton and his crew of fourteen remain unreported by June 1, the author's financial agent here "will just about give up hope—but not until then at least."

This was the statement today from Wilfred Crowell, whose last word from the Chinese junk Sea Dragon, via Mackay Radio, March 24, the day of a severe storm in the Far Pacific.

Halliburton left Hongkong, bound for San Francisco, March 4. He kept a daily radio schedule with Mackay for twenty days, when it was estimated he was 1,200 miles northwest of Midway Island. He was due at Midway around April 5.

The Sea Dragon, under auxiliary power, was making about 150 miles a day.

Mackay Radio said the Restorer, a commercial Pacific Cables' Company ship, now was en route to Midway from Victoria, B.C., and probably was about 360 miles northeast of the island. The radio firm also said the Restorer was in constant touch with San Francisco and was on the lookout for the Halliburton junk.

HEAVY TRAVEL IS ANTICIPATED

Victoria and Vancouver Will Be Focal Points During Royal Visit

VANCOUVER, April 25.—Canadian railways are offering special low fares in all parts of the Dominion to facilitate travel to cities where Their Majesties the King and Queen will make extended official stops during their forthcoming tour.

So far as British Columbia is concerned, Vancouver and Victoria, where Their Majesties will be making extended motor tours, are chief focal points of interest, and heavy travel to these cities is anticipated.

Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railways will be offering fares on the basis of one and a quarter cents per mile in each direction. The fares apply to all parts of the province, except Vancouver Island, in respect to travel to Vancouver, and from all parts of Vancouver Island in respect to travel to Victoria.

Bargain fares will be good for the going trip May 27, 28 and 29 for the Mainland, and May 27, 28, 29 and 30 from Vancouver Island points, and carry a return limit to May 30 for the Mainland and May 31 for Vancouver Island.

SECOND FRENCH VESSEL BURNED

Merchant Steamship Angers Destroyed at La Seyene Shipyard, Toulon

TOULON, France, April 25 (AP).—The French Government today opened an investigation of what authorities thought might be the second case of sabotage against French merchant vessels within a week—the burning of the steamship Angers.

The 9,847-ton Angers was destroyed shortly before last midnight at La Seyene Shipyard, near a powder and gasoline depot, which serves the main French naval base at Toulon. The loss was estimated at 200,000 francs ($5,200).

The Angers, formerly the Capocorna, built in 1917 at Hamburg, was being broken up.

The fire followed by two days the expulsion from Toulon of six Italian employees of a factory working on national defence orders. They were accused of spreading anti-French propaganda.

PLEASED WITH PATROL BOAT

Lack of Vibration Featured Trial Trip of Fishery Vessel Kitimat

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP).—The motorship Kitimat, the new fishery patrol boat of the Dominion Government Department of Fisheries, went through trials on Howe Sound and English Bay today.

The boat cruised at a speed of nine knots and between ten and eleven knots on a measured mile.

A notable fact, commented on by all of the trial trip party was the lack of vibration, even at top speed.

"The vibration is slight," agreed Captain L. Sheppard, regular commander of the ship, "but wait till the engines run in and we also have full oil tanks. You won't feel any vibration."

The Kitimat is eighty-seven feet long and carries fuel sufficient for a 2,500 to 3,000-mile cruise. She will carry a crew of eight officers and men when she goes into commission.

Petition Against Continued Use of Traps Presented

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—A petition against continued use of traps for catching British Columbia salmon was laid before the House of Commons today by A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni).

The petition bore three groups of signatures, one of British Columbia businessmen, one of sports fishermen and one of commercial fishermen. The present limited use of traps on the southern end of Vancouver Island has been a source of controversy for years.

SACRED SHEEP STILL ABOARD

Lascar Seamen Content When Order to Destroy Animals Rescinded

HALIFAX, April 25 (CP) — The good ship City of Singapore was ready to sail today with a contented captain and a contented crew. The order to destroy the sheep, without which her Lascar seamen would not put to sea, was rescinded.

The Lascars' Mohammedan religion demands ships on which they live and work must carry live sheep. When the City of Singapore arrived here yesterday the sacred sheep were ordered destroyed because the ship had come from the China Sea ports, where hoof-and-mouth disease is prevalent.

Because the sheep would not be taken ashore anyway, it was not necessary to kill the sacred animals.

PROPER QUESTION

A little girl came home from school and said "Daddy, my teacher told us the world is round."

"That's right, dear," said the father.

"Well, Daddy, if the world is round," she asked, "why do people say they go to the far corners of the earth?"

NEGOTIATIONS ARE ON AGAIN

Fishermen and Cannery Operators Resume Parleys Over Salmon Prices

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP). — Rolph Bremer, secretary of the salmon fishermen's central committee tonight said negotiations with cannery operators over the price to be paid to fishermen for salmon had been resumed here after several weeks' adjournment.

Cannery and fishermen's representatives failed to come to an agreement at previous conferences and postponed negotiations until members of the various fishermen's unions could be advised of the price being offered by cannery operators.

Bremer said representatives on the committee had conferred with their unions and reported back to the central committee yesterday. He did not announce the prices offered by the operators and those asked by fishermen, but said that the difference was not great.

Represented on the central committee are the Amalgamated Association of British Columbia Fishermen; British Columbia Fishermen's Protective Association; Fishing Vessel Owners' Association of British Columbia; Native Brotherhood of British Columbia; and Pacific Coast Native Fishermen's Association.
